THE MEMORIAL TRIBUTE
OF THE
NORTHEAST HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY ON THE
DEATH OF MISS EDNA E. MILLER

---

It is with profoundest sorrow that we learned of the death of our lamented and beloved colleague, Miss Edna E. Miller, the head of the department of art and design in the Northeast High School.

This sad news comes so suddenly and unexpectedly that it is difficult for us to find adequate language to express our feeling of sorrow and of truest appreciation. Physically, intellectually, and professionally, she seemed to be so normal, so energetic and so enthusiastic in her work that none of us would have thought that she would be the sixth member of the Northeast High School faculty to be numbered out of service at the command of the messenger of death. Although this is only Miss Miller's first year as a teacher in this school, already through her genial and strong character, socially and professionally, by her active, faithful and willing service for the good of Northeast and by her expert efficiency as a teacher of art, she was rapidly strengthening her department and endearing herself to the hearts of her pupils and co-workers.

Miss Miller's friends were proud of her meritorious work and the attractive and enviable career that she was shaping for herself both as a fine personality and as an art teacher. Outside of her routine class work she was prodigally active in helping the teachers and pupils in all school activities where a skillful artist was needed to produce charming posters, bulletin board notices of school events, cover designs, department headings for the "Nor'easter" and bookplates to stimulate the pupils in their study of literature. Indeed, hers was a self-sacrificing spirit for the good of the whole school. In these respects Miss Miller's character and work furnished a shining example of high-minded womanhood for our pupils to emulate and for her fellow teachers to revere.

To her bereaved mother and other members of her family we extend our tenderest sympathy and condolence. May they find consolation in the reflection that to be thus remembered by her pupils and colleagues is not to die, and the Northeast High School is a better school for having enjoyed even for so brief a season Miss Miller's refining, beautifying and mind-strengthening influence.

Let us also find consolation in the reflection that to scatter along life's highway in spring as Miss Miller did, works of beauty for the human eye to rest upon and especially to cultivate the love for beauty in the hearts and minds of our young people, is to be a benefactor of the human race.

Solicitously submitted by the Committee,

MR. E. D. PHILLIPS, Chairman,
MISS EVA PACKARD,
MR. ROBERT E. WHITE.

Class of 1923

Hear Ye:

Now the history of the renowned and illustrious class of '23, of the well known school of Northeast, of the City of Kansas City (tho' verily 'tis in that section of the country known as Missouri).

It did come to pass in this wise:

There were in the year '19 various and sundry schools of lower learning known to the populace as ward schools. From these came youths and maidens, nay children, to flock about the portals and through the halls of N. H. S. And it so happened that these children were known as Freshmen, and its various corruptions, for they were as the color of the Shamrock.

At this same hall of learning were scholars of a fiendish disposition who did pounce upon these innocents and prey upon them. These were called upper classmen, the worst of whom were the Sophomores, the erstwhile Freshies.

Verily, after many moons these returned to their homes but did come again to the portals of the high school, but not as Freshmen. Nay, as Sophies, who remembering the insults of the previous year did make war on the unfortunate class of '24.

And it came to pass that these did change, did become taller in stature and wiser of mind and lo! they were Juniors!

Now did the class of '22 cause them much anguish for 'twas their delight to give the Juniors the time-worn "razz" and to make sport of them. Then did "Father Time" cause twelve more moons to pass, and they did become Seniors.

There did come a time of flowers, new suits and dresses, and various orations and speeches. Then were they given neatly tied scrolls which did tell of their graduation and they did feel repaid for the many weary hours they had spent in study.

Now did they leave their Alma Mater and depart for various places. Others did fill their place just as others will fill theirs for verily, "Men may come and men may go, but Seniors go on forever."

—ETHEL S. WATSON.

Class of 1924

Ah! Ye Juniors! Well may you hold your heads high, for you have come through on top, as usual. It just took time. Time can work wonders, and so it has with this class. What a great improvement has taken place over the green and presumptuous Freshmen who boldly set foot in Northeast High three years ago.

We have shared a great part of the responsibility of the school, won many honors, and made the Junior class mean more than before. As we shall stand out as an example to the lower classmen—ahem!—we have high hopes of glorifying ourselves still more, so that we may appear more magnificent in the eyes of these severe critics.

Of course the Senior class of this year is "The" Senior class, as all Senior classes are. But to be "The" Junior class stands for a little more, and this is the title that we hope is ours. Although we are allowed one more year at Northeast, (the school is indeed fortunate), may this year stand out to show what loyal and true Juniors can accomplish for their school.

Class of 1925

Place: The Modern Muses in Grand Council.

Time: 1923.

Chief Muse: The Council will come to order. Today the Council has a very important task to perform, namely, that of awarding honors to the scholars of Northeast High School. I shall call on each Muse to give his report in turn. First we shall have the report of the Muse of Military Training.

Muse of Military Training: Methinks, Chief Muse, that I can report something very favorable for all the R. O. T. C., but First Lieutenant William Schaerrer is especially deserving.

Chief Muse: Very favorable indeed. We shall now hear from the Muse of Athletics.

Muse of Athletics: Chief Muse, this year great things were accomplished in the field of athletics, and John Lewondoski has done many things for Northeast.

Chief Muse: Yea, all of us have heard of the deeds of John Lewondoski, which were greatly to his credit and to Northeast's credit. Next, let the report of the Muse of Music be heard.

Muse of Music: O Chief Muse, after a careful decision, it has been decided that Lois Swaney is very deserving of honors in Music. She is a good singer, working especially hard to keep the Music cups at Northeast. We should be appreciative of her efforts.

Chief Muse: Right glad are all to hear it. The report of the Muse of Debate will be given.

Muse of Debate: Muses, dost realize that Forrest Judd as a member of the negative debate team this year helped much in the winning of the debate for that team, which helped to put Northeast on the map. He has done something we all can be proud of.

Chief Muse: Good joy! All honors are to the Sophomores! Therefore, heralds, let it be proclaimed in the halls of Northeast High School that the Sophomore class is the honor class in 1923!

FRED HAWKINS.

Ten years! For a whole decade the Red and Black has led, and she shows no sign of fatigue. Today, the Northeast Society of Debate grows more powerful with each passing year. We have never enjoyed a year of greater success than this, the tenth, and seldom, if ever, one of equal success. In every line of endeavor one at least of us has distinguished himself, and many have gained honors in more than one field.

There is a passage in our anthem which reads: "Thou shalt never backslide, one step, while we're near to thee." This is the slogan taught us and carried through by each succeeding generation of Debaters, so that each year brings added glory to N. S. D. This is the slogan which will make her eleventh year the most glorious of all. Hail to N. S. D.! May she never be less than what she is! May we, in future years returning, find that "the head of the list will be the N. S. D.!"

"To be or not to be" a Shakespeare. To be a Shakespeare is to be an ambitious student. The very name inspires high aims and lofty ideals; it creates within us a desire for all that is truest, noblest and best in thinking and in living. We cannot all be great poets like Shakespeare but who shall say that from out this 1923 group of Shakespeares there shall not emerge great doctors, lawyers, artists, authors and teachers who shall make their influence felt in the world in the years to come.

The Delphians have accomplished many things and, ever keeping the highest standards before us, we strive to live up to these standards in name and action. It is with much regret that we bid farewell to the Seniors, who have upheld the purple and gold so nobly, but we expect the new members, to whom the welfare of the society will be entrusted, to carry on as well. We make no itemized account of our talents or achievements because they are known and acknowledged by all.

Through the whole year the Clionian girls have striven to live up to their motto, "SEEK THE BEAUTIFUL." You will not find anywhere a more loyal group, either to the society or to Northeast. We all feel that we have gained something true and beautiful to add to the virtues of our persons by constant contact with one another.

We hope the society will always be as fortunate as it was this year in having such efficient pilots at the wheel of the ship, and that it will dock safe in harbor at the end of each year.

The Benton Literary Society is just closing another successful year. We have accomplished much, including a good representation in school activities, interesting and beneficial programs, and have taken much interest in the Literary Contest. Even if we do not win this contest, as we hope to, we feel certain that this year has benefited each one, and that we have done much to raise the standards in Northeast. Our desire to make Northeast a better and pleasanter place has kept us united and working through our most successful year. We are sorry to lose our seniors; however, next year we will do our best to win more honors for B. L. S. without them.

The Theta Owl, that bird of infinite wisdom, says:

"Who? Who? Who doesn't know that during these two short years of its existence, the Theta Literary Society has made itself forever famous because of its innumerable achievements? Who doesn't know that there are this year three Thetas on the Girls' Debate teams, two on the Staff, and several on the honor rolls? Who doesn't know that Thetas are class officers, members of the Student Council, and members and officers of various clubs? Who doesn't know that Thetas have won medals in Literary Contests, contributed to the Nor'easter, and had feasts, hikes, parties, educational programs, and plays? Who doesn't know that the Thetas are the brightest, best, and most lovable girls at Northeast? Who doesn't know that the Thetas owe most of their success to Miss Leonard, their beloved adviser? Who? Who? Whosoever does not know these things cannot be called wise."

Of all the clubs there are in school,
The Math Club is the best.
And when it comes to doing things
We're way ahead the rest.

Yes! We have done a great many things this year. We have also had a Toyland Dance and a mixer, which have been truly successes. We have the "peppiest" bunch in the school. We jump and make everyone else jump because we've got lots of vim and we're going to win! We have some illustrious older members and some promising younger ones, who next year will take up and carry on the work of the Mathematics Club. But—actions speak louder than words! So watch us and beware!

Je sais que tous les élèves de Northeast High School ont entendu parler des "Penseurs." Notre pièce "La Marraine de Guerre" a eut un grand succès ainsi que notre soiree dansante. Si vous voulez vous imaginer pour un moment d'être en France venez vous a une des réunions de "Les Penseurs". Oh, la la! Je sais que, charmé par cette atmosphère, vous voudriez tous étudier le français. Nous sommes tres heureux d'avoir Mlle. Hofacker pour notre conseillère. Elle est connue et aimée par tous les élèves. Alors nous souhaitons pour "Les Penseurs" un futur, plein de prosperity.

Hace nueve años que una nueva sociedad fué organizada en la Escuela Nordeste. Desde ese tiempo esta sociedad se ha conocido como la Sociedad Castellana y ha crecido y prosperado hasta que ahora ocupa uno de los lugares más prominentes de la Escuela Nordeste. Ahora hemos cumplido el año más próspero en la historia de la Sociedad. La Sociedad ha tenido mucha influencia en las clases de español y todos los discípulos del español desean ser miembros de la Sociedad Castellana. Las reuniones han sido muy interesantes e instructivas pero no hemos dado todo nuestro tiempo al estudio de la hermosa lengua de Cervantes.

Ustedes sin duda recuerdan nuestros "Mixers" por los cuales nos hemos hecho famosos y todo el mundo dijo que nuestro "Old Fashioned Barn Dance" fué el mejor baile de todos. Nuestro buen éxito se debe en gran parte a la Señora Bell y a la Señorita Taylor. Esperamos que los futuros años de la Sociedad serán tan prósperos. Viva la Sociedad Castellana!

Northeasters all know the Vesta Club. We are two years old and still have our allowance of pep.

The girls this year have been busy. We supplied the "cats" for the Inter-Club dance, March 17, and we just know that everyone came because they knew we cooked the "goodies."

March 27 we had a tea for our mothers and entertainment afterwards—sure had one jolly good time.

By the way, we had a line party and a tea after the show.

Have you ever noticed in how many branches of school life art is needed? We students of drawing and drafting have long felt the need of an Art Club at Northeast, and at last our ambition is realized. This club was formed to promote interest in the need and value of art in every day life, and to help its members learn to recognize the best in art, fine, applied and commercial, both ancient and modern. We have endeavored to help our school in every possible way by means of decorations for school affairs, and posters which are used for advertising all important events. We have had interesting talks from architects and art critics which have been of great benefit to us. Besides the pleasure we have derived from this, beneficial talks and our visit to the Art Institute, our social events have been very successful.

At last, it is nearing the time when our Senior members will leave us. We have enjoyed their companionship immensely and wish that they all may have great success in their future business careers.

Also, we have enjoyed ourselves on some "peppy" hikes and we shall be on the lookout for new members next year—so Sophomores and Juniors be sure and get into the club with us.

The Commercial Club has accomplished much this year. We have greatly increased our membership. We have learned many things by visiting large commercial houses in this city and we have had such good officers that we know that the club this year has been more successful than ever before. We who are left shall strive to make the club as good and even better next year.

Well, we went. Where? Why out to Hickman Mills, of course, and allow me to say right now that we knocked them cold, we put them on ice, we jarred them plumb out of their seats, we—folks, we went over big! As I said once before, they like us out Hickman Mills way. Well ladies and gentlemen and—er—ah—also students of "thou dear Northeast," there isn't so much to tell this time except that April 20, 1923, A. D., the R. O. T. C. gives a huge military circus in Convention Hall, and us, weuns, the Glee Club, disguised in military uniforms, and singing under the pseudonym of the "Harmony Squad" are going to compete against the harmony squads of the other three high schools and sh-sh-shus—don't breathe a word of it to anyone but we're going to beat those boys so bad they'll never be the same after it's over. There is a large loving cup offered for the winning squad and—well we just can't get along without that cup. The contest pieces, both boys' chorus and mixed chorus, are coming fine and we are expecting to gallop home in these contests too with a loving cup under each arm. The sight reading contest this year will be held before the massive crowd that packs Junior College that afternoon; and folks, another school has that cup now, but it's coming back to its home this year. Just watch and see. Our first tenor department suffered a setback a few days ago when Aubrey Griffin resigned. That leaves just one first tenor, Edwin "Jay" Boyd, to sing in the contest. Oh well, we'll romp home with the cups anyway so why worry. That's all, folks, except that I'll be looking for everyone of you down there at Junior College the Friday afternoon of the contest. So long until the day we knock 'em for a goal.

The Treble Clef Club has resolved to carry on, with flying banners, the work begun by former T. C. C. members. Of course you all know what this club has done in the way of bringing honor to Northeast for the past decade, and of course the members of the club at the present time desire to do as much or more than has been done already. The results of the solo contest are only a foreshadowing of events to come, for

Never are we downcast,
Tired we seldom are;
Cheerfully we do our best,
Choosing success for our star.

The ancient Greeks were no better equipped in physical education than we, for the Northeast Olympic Association has lived up to its creed in being full of energy and vigor.

The inter-class soccer football games were the first competition of the 1922-1923 season. The seniors walked off with the honor of being the champions.

The inter-class basket ball games brought out an enthusiastic crowd of people. The juniors won the honors.

Baseball and track meets are to be held in April and May. We will also have a swimming meet about the same time.

Just now the Northeast annual girls gymnasium fete is being prepared and will be given April 6th. About one hundred and sixty will take part in it. The program this year is divided into three parts. The first part is a demonstration of natural rhythm and dances; the second part, an American pageant, in which each period is represented by its own colonial and national dances; the third part, a dance drama written over the theme of Grimm's child like fairy story, "Babes In the Woods." In this part we have the good fairies and the gingerbread fairies and the good angels, the witch and all the other characters that made this popular fairy story so alive.

This is not all by any means that we have been doing; our days are so full and will continue to be full until the very last day of school.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

This year's student council has been busily engaged in working for the student body trying to make Northeast a better school for all. Two of the more important measures passed included help in the protection of the student's property by the R. O. T. C. and the working out of an efficient library checking system. The council is now formulating a plan to co-operate with all the high schools in creating an interest in the erection of a stadium, to be used by all the schools of Kansas City for football and track. Frank Miller is the Northeast representative on the inter-high school committee.

The student council was formed to serve the students of Northeast, so it is up to you to make it a success. Thanks for your co-operation.

GIRLS HIGH SCHOOL CLUB CABINET

Girls' High School Club

Through another successful year the slogan of the Girls' High School Club has been carried; and through this year, the Senior Triangle of the club has helped to improve it, strengthen it, and carry on its part of the work.

The meetings have all been lively, interesting, and full of "pep"; but underneath this spirit of joy, there has been a current of deeper and fuller meaning. The Senior Triangle meetings have brought inspiration, uplifting and helpful thoughts, and a strong desire to each girl who has attended them to go out from school and spread the influence that she has received, through the world around her. The meetings have not only been inspirational, but educational, too. Many topics of interest have been discussed and the girls have profited by them greatly.

Much social service work has been done, and in that way, the members of the Triangle have shared their advantages with those who were not so fortunate, and have brought the spirit of the club into the lives of others.

A great deal of their success is due to the Triangle adviser Miss Peters. She has helped the girls to conduct successful meetings and has encouraged them in carrying on their social work.

As the Senior girls leave, they are wishing for the Triangles the best of success throughout the coming year and the others to follow, and they hope that the girls who take their places will carry on the work and make the Girls' High School Club a better and a bigger club each year, and also one of the outstanding factors in the school life of Northeast.

The Junior Triangle

"The meeting of the Junior Triangle will please come to order." (Conversations concerning important business (?) were hastily closed; candy and potato chips mysteriously disappeared; silence reigned supreme.)

We have learned many valuable things. Many interesting programs we have had. Among these was a most unusual talk by a social service worker who told us of her experiences among the poorer districts. Another discussion enjoyed by all was that on "Vocational Guidance." The girls who are trying to be honor girls had charge of a health meeting at which it was proved that all girls required a certain amount of exercise, especially those whose greatest desire is to reduce. We cannot round out a useful life on books and lectures alone. The principal characters at one of our meetings which was held at Prospect Point, were "hot dogs," buns, dill pickles, potato chips, roasted marshmallows and all of their various friends. A good time was the unanimous verdict.

Under the guidance of Miss Miller, our faithful adviser, the girls have earnestly endeavored to make their lives worthy of the blue Girl Reserve Triangle, which represents physical, mental and spiritual development.

TO "A" COMPANY.

There are some eighty-five young men in the R. O. T. C. that feel a certain distinction in belonging to "A" Company of the Northeast Battalion. While not the largest company in the "outfit," we believe that quality rather than quantity is the virtue to be striven for. We feel that the letter "A" is such a puny thing to represent so great a significance and to symbolize such a magnificent series of duties and events so well performed during the successful year of 1922-1923.

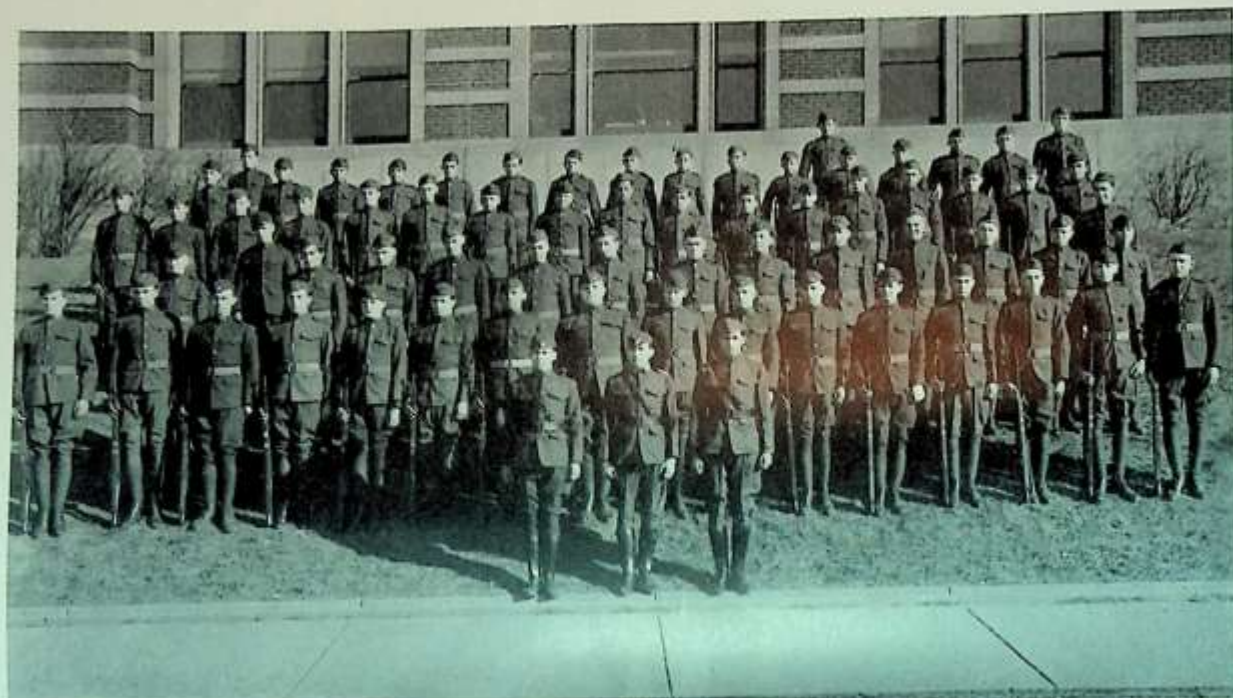

All for one, and one for all. That is the prevalent spirit of "A" Company; or in a more militaristic manner, a pronounced "esprit-de-corps." "Semper Fidelis," that's us all over, folks.

In leaving, we feel that we are justified in concluding that we have been an attribute to the school, and a great credit to the cadet corps in keeping aloft the great ideals of patriotism and good citizenship for which it strives, and which are the fundamentals of manhood—in fact, we believe that the very red blood in our veins has turned a deeper hue.

In conclusion: As the curtain falls, and the twilight days of our school year slowly approach, we bid a fond adieu to departing comrades who have "soldiered" so faithfully in "A" Company throughout the term. Also, a few brief words of eulogy to our esteemed instructor, Sergeant William O. Vickers, U. S. A., under whose eager care and guidance we have successfully weathered the trials of this school year; his earnest efforts vindicating his great love and admiration for us.

And in leaving, a grateful company commander extends his compliments to his men and officers who have worked so zealously with him during the term, and he wishes them fortune and God-speed on their way in the great march on the journey of life.

TO "B" COMPANY.

By the instruction of our competent and experienced leader, Sergeant Vickers, the men of Company "B" have progressed no little bit in the study of Military Science and Tactics. From the time of our first formation at the beginning of the year, the response to our first sergeant's command, "Fall In," has been characterized by immediate obedience. In this respect, we have duly received the praise of Captain Mitchell, who is in charge of the R. O. T. C. unit in Kansas City. Captain Mitchell has said—and if anyone ought to know, it is he—that the formation of Company "B" is faster and snappier than that of any other company in the city.

Although we have been somewhat handicapped this year, our capable captain, James Pickering, has made the most of the circumstances; and with the assistance of his lieutenants and non-commissioned officers, he has succeeded in instilling in the men those qualities that are characteristic of a disciplined soldier. While we cannot say definitely at this time that we will win the coming Field Day meet, it is an indisputable fact that the other high schools will meet in Company "B" some of the keenest competition ever offered.

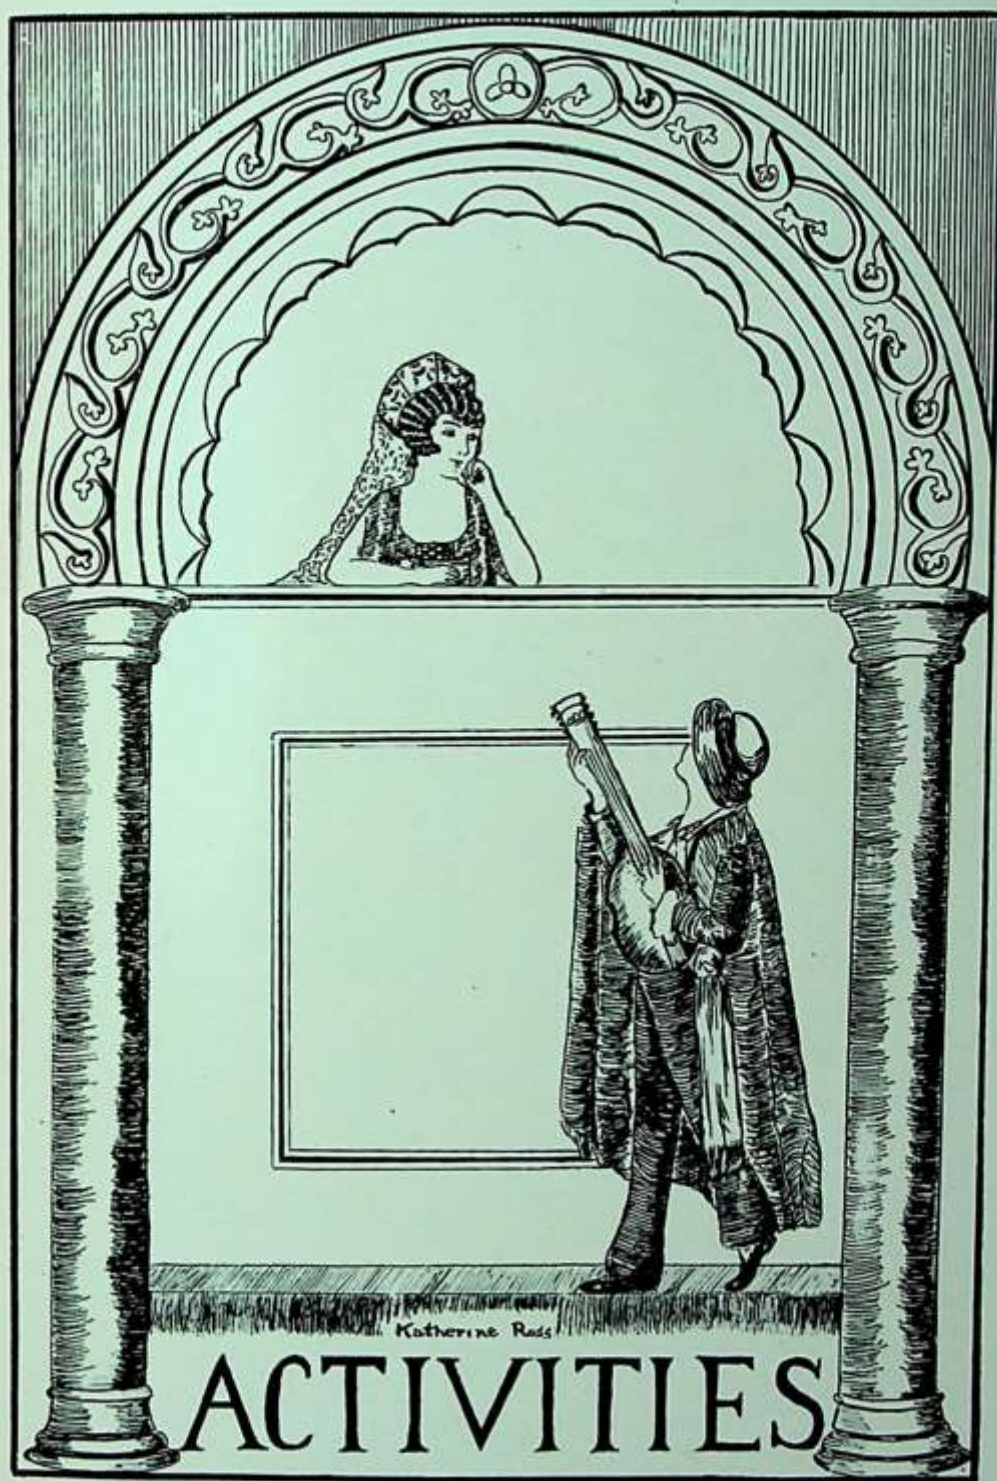

Not only do Sergeant Vickers and Captain Pickering and his officers deserve praise, but also the men deserve equal praise. After all, it is the men that make the company, and Company "B" is composed of men who have been patient and persevering in their study of military science and tactics, men who have always cooperated with their leaders. And it is, indeed, gratifying to know that the time, patience and energy employed in the teaching and training of these men has not been spent in vain.

Considering everything, Company "B" has been a success; and it is and always will be a mark of credit to the R. O. T. C. and to the Northeast High School.

"N" Club

The most outstanding club at Northeast is the "N" Club, a club for wearers of the dear old N. This club is in a class by itself, in that it is an honorary organization.

The "N" Club stands for those principles which every true athlete must have, namely, clean habits, clean speech, and clean sportsmanship. A club with such ideals cannot help but be a success and as each member is of the highest caliber the task of keeping these principles is easy.

The club's adviser is Mr. Reeves Peters, Director of Athletics, a person well qualified because of his ideals in the realm of sport. With such an able adviser and again considering the caliber of its members we must conclude that the "N" club as an organization will always be one of merit. At the last regular meeting the following were elected as officers: President, K. Lancaster; Vice-President, A. Raup; Secretary and Treasurer, R. Cook; Sergeant-at-Arms, W. Cook; Reporter, G. Stocker.

When the first call for football candidates was issued by Coach Peters last fall sixty fellows reported, among them only three letter men as a nucleus around which to build a team. During the first few weeks of practice everything pointed to a mediocre season as there was no real good material. But as the season progressed many players developed into excellent football men and when the selections for all-star team were announced Northeast had two men on it; De Feo at guard and Morris at center. Both players were exceptionally good. De Feo always played his consistent game and Morris always a flashing game. During the season we tied Manual and Odessa; lost to St. Joe, Central; defeated Westport and Manual; lost to Central twice and once to Westport.

Northeast has always had an excellent Basket Ball team. The three years preceding this year our team won the city and state championship without meeting defeat. Naturally after such a glorious record for three straight years one would expect other schools to build up strong aggregations. This year we did not win the championship but we had the cleanest and hardest fighting team in the state. Every man on the team was recognized during the season as being a player of merit. Deniston, captain, again made captain of the All-Star team, Koonse, a guard, also made the mythical five; on the Second All-Star team we placed Jordan at center and Lapin at guard, while McDonald and Offut both received honorable mention. Considering what has been stated it is easily seen that this year's team was a credit to Northeast.

THE NOR'EASTER

DENISTON

DENISTON

George Deniston, the only man who ever made the All-Star Basket Ball four successive years. George has played on a team that won state championship three years in succession. He has captained the All-Star Team twice and was awarded a silver loving cup for being the most valuable man to his team in the last season. With such a wonderful record, we cannot help but look on George with a great deal of pride and considering his academic standing we are certain he will attain whatever his goal may be.

"KENNY"

Kenneth Lancaster is, without a doubt, the greatest track man that has ever hailed from Northeast. This year will probably be his greatest in high school, for it is his last and we certainly will miss him. "Kenny" holds the record for the pole vault with a height of 12 ft. ½ in. and the record for the broad jump with a distance of 21 ft. 8 in. He has also equaled the record for the city in the 440-yd. dash. Last year "Kenny" made the All-American High School Track Team and probably will make it again this year. We certainly do wish "Kenny" to make as great a success in life as he has in track.

Track Outlook

The three big indoor meets this year were won with ease by the Northeast tracksters and everyone expects this year's team to make history for Northeast in track. In all the meets Northeast made more points than all the other schools combined. As this Annual goes to press before many of the important meets, we shall write out the schedule now and you may fill in the results after the important meets. Northeast should win the Kansas Relays, the Missouri State meet, the Kansas Aggie Relay, and maybe the Drake Relays and the National High School Meet in Chicago, providing the team is always in excellent condition and no one is crippled or unable to compete.

Results of Meets

GIRLS' TRACK

When a girl gives up all candy and voluntarily promises to abstain from eating all sweets, you may be sure that there is some powerful force back of that promise; something which will strengthen her will power and repay her for her sacrifice.

That something is the power of desire for strong, steady limbs which will enable her to clear the bar at a height heretofore unheard of. It is the power which will send her scampering down the track, head up, breathing easily, ahead of all her opponents.

The season for track has opened with a bang. Every day one may see the girls, those ever dependable gym girls, jumping, running, throwing; preparing themselves to contest to their utmost ability for the supremacy of their class in the annual track meet.

Last year the sophomores won. As a matter of information, let it be known that the Juniors are going to win this year. But to make it interesting, the others are coming out strong and you will see some fine work which will keep you guessing until the sophomores pick up the lead and carry their glorious red banner to victory. ARDENE STEPHENS.

GIRLS' TENNIS

September 25th, 26th and 27th the inter-school tennis tournament was played on the Rockhill courts. The girls team was inexperienced and did not make a good showing but we are working hard on our spring tournament, and hope to develop some real tennis players by next fall. This is our only inter-school competition, so, girls, we must get to work and be prepared to play for honors in tennis for Northeast's sake.

THE NOR'EASTER

There were 26 entries for the singles, and 10 for the doubles of the tournament. These were "sifted through the net" until finally the following team was chosen:

Singles—Charlotte Harper, Virginia Connelly.

Doubles—First team: Maxine Daniels, Margaret Johnson.
Second team: Olive Russell, Gladys Campbell.

Mixed Doubles—Winifred Cary, Carroll Ward.

Girls Who Have Won the "N" and Numeral

Numerals and small and large Ns were awarded in the large gymnasium on May 23, 1922. We had to make at least two teams to receive one set of numerals; 75 points earn a small N; 100 points a large N; 125 points a seal. The following girls received Numerals:

| Freshman '25      |                   |                     | Senior '22         |

| Mabel Richart     | Kathleen Cox      | Berenice Rutherford | Mary Klaveter      |
| Mildred Day       | Helen Strickle    | Olive Russell       |                    |
| Lois Swaney       | Eva Piper         | Belle E. Affeld     |                    |
|                   | Esther Prescott   | Vlasti Prather      |                    |

Small Ns—75 points.

Junior—Helen Bowman, Juanita Wheeler.

Senior—Mary Elliott, Linea Holm, Francelia Williams, Mary Klaveter, Emma Day, Dorothy Frederick, Loretta Cauley, Belle E. Affeld, Verna Ayers.

Large Ns—100 points.

Junior—Juanita Wheeler.

Senior—Mary Elliott, Linea Holm, Francelia Williams, Mary Klaveter, Emma Day, Dorothy Latham, Mary Frederick, Loretta Cauley, Belle E. Affeld, Verna Ayers.

Seals—125 points.

Senior—Mary Elliott, Linea Holm, Francelia Williams, Mary Klaveter, Mary Frederick, Verna Ayers.

BASE BALL

Girls! Do you know that the girls of Northeast High School play baseball?

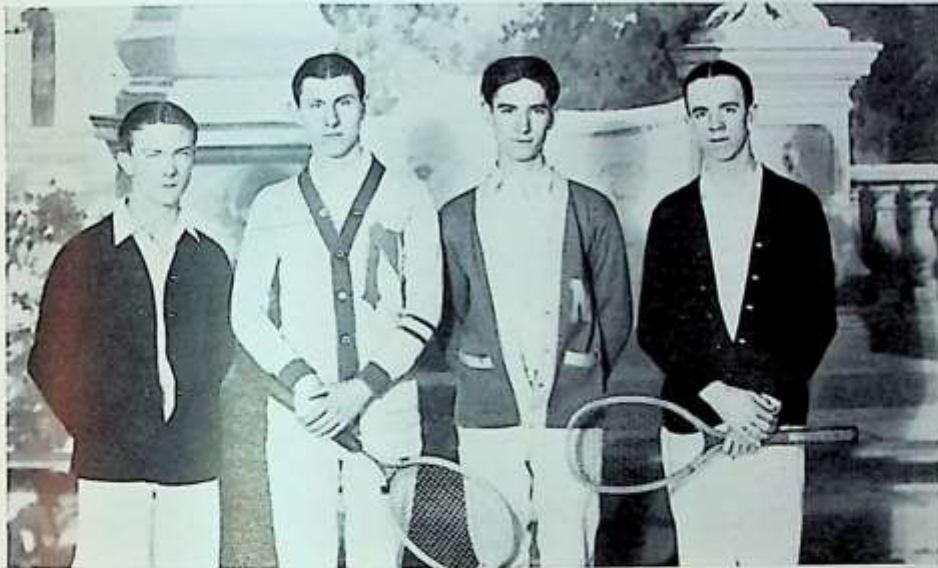

Do you know there are infielders and outfielders as good as those of the Kansas City Blues?

Do you know that there are batters that can outshine Babe Ruth in hitting home runs?

All girls, who are really interested in the game, know by now the ways to hold their hands in catching a "fly" or "grounder," the way to hold the bat, and all other rules of baseball; for instance, the ball sticks in our hands when it reaches them for we have hands of glue instead of rubber; also when the ball comes in contact with the bat, it sails afar, for we hit like professionals and not like amateurs.

THE NOR'EASTER

BOOK-PLATES DESIGNED BY PUPILS OF THE SENIOR ENGLISH LITERATURE CLASSES.

It is a laudable idea in high school journalism to have one or more sui-generis features that stand out as characteristic of some special high school publication. The accompanying original book-plates were designed by pupils of Prof. E. D. Phillips' 1922-23 English Literature classes and they compare quite favorably with book-plates that were produced by corresponding pupils of previous years.

One excellent feature of this work is that it demonstrates a charming correlation between the departments of Art and Literature.

Too much credit cannot be given to Miss Edna Miller, formerly head of the department of free-hand drawing and design, before her death, for the valuable directions that she gave the authors of these designs, which contribute so much toward cultivating a keener appreciation of art and literature.

CHRISTMAS PLAY CAST

The Christmas Play

The Christmas or Mid-Year play, which has become an annual event at Northeast, was presented this year on December 8 and 9. It was a great success as shown by the large attendance both nights of the presentation, which represented over three thousand students, parents, and teachers. The play, "The Witching Hour," deals with superstition, psychological phenomena, and the power of suggestion, conscious and unconscious. The action of the play is contained in four acts—and breathless suspense was maintained until the drop of the curtain at the end of the last act. The scene is laid in Louisville, Kentucky, and naturally there was a gambler and a murder to complicate the plot.

An especially notable fact was that a double girls's cast was used. The cast in order of their appearance:

Josephine Abbott, Frances Turpin, and Florence Benson played on Friday, the eighth. The next night Verda Strickler, Mary Agnes Patterson, and Iva Murphy played the girl's roles.

Critics were unanimous in their praise. Mr. Stigall pronounced the play the very best high school play he had ever seen. Many former students and visitors from other schools, as well as parents and students who were present, gave fine compliments to the players.

Mr. Harold B. Taylor, Clarence Barnickel and Miss Frances Turpin received special notice from the press and spectators, for their professional-like acting in their exceedingly difficult roles.

The success of the play is due to a large extent to the efforts of Miss Helen Hobbs, the coach. Too much credit and recognition cannot be given her.

We hope that more such plays will be given at Northeast in the future.

First Annual Junior Jubilee

Oh boy! were you one of the thousands that jammed the halls of Northeast High School March 23? Oh yes, everyone went to the Junior Jubilee. First you elbowed your way to the pop stand, then you shoved and shoved until you could hear the fortune teller's mystic message. Barkers with their raucous calls urged you on to other sideshows. Pretty girls in purple and white caps and aprons busily plied their wares of peanuts and candy. Then you took a trip around the world. Of course, it was such a flying trip you didn't see much, but anyway you've been. When you got back you went to see the pyramids which were built under the direction of Mr. Cohlmeier, architect. Real, living pyramids they were, too. Wasn't the incubator baby in the winter circus the cutest little thing you ever saw? He had such pretty red cheeks and hair. Barnum and Bailey themselves couldn't have equaled this circus. Then you saw the dramatic production of "The Moor's Legacy," where the good Pedro Gil was beset by his scolding wife and the cunning barber, and the cruel deputy, and the grasping judge. And you saw him finally triumph in carrying off his gold and precious jewels.

But now it was time to go to the operetta and you were almost too late to get a seat. Those who lingered longer in the halls were more unfortunate than you and found themselves being merged with the plaster of the walls until Mr. Nowlin came to the rescue and thinned them out by announcing that the side shows would be run free for those who could not get seats for the operetta. Then the curtain rose and Miss Wettstein's well trained choruses, assisted by Miss Mealey's dancers, showed how Dame Needy lived with her many children in the Old Shoe. Laura Sargent realistically played the role of the mother. Dame Needy was ably assisted in her care of the younger children by her oldest daughter, Meg, Lucile Webb. Nadine Carlisle made a winsome Angelina, the sick little neighbor girl, who was discovered by the landlord's daughter, Lily (whom we know as Kathleen Burns), and taken to the hills where the fresh air cured her lungs. Meg's seven sisters were Ruth Campbell, Virginia Frederick, Ella McCance, Alice Ziegel; Mary De Rubertis, Faye Boyd and Helen Smith. The brothers, whose parts were taken by Howard Adams, Robert Burdick, and some of the other boys in Twilight Alley made things lively for Dame Needy and the girls. They would play ball and robber and get in the dirt. They even planned to burn the Old Shoe because everybody hated it; but finally they bent their energies to the capture of the Black Bogie, Smoke, which was the bane of their mother's life, and went up in an aeroplane after him. When they returned the evening paper was out announcing the action by the council that a smoke consumer would be put on every chimney. As Lily had decided to enlist her father to help in cleaning up the Old Shoe, much of the gloom was taken out of everybody's life. As soon as the curtain descended on the spirit of the muses, King Carnival reigned again. Everyone rushed for the side shows.

Of course, no one believes all the fish tales he hears, but, honestly, such queer fish as you caught that night were never caught from a pond before. There were little loaves of bread, cookies, breakfast foods, candy and everything edible that's made in Kansas City. On the banks of the fish pond the mermaids had their market where fishermen bought dolls, handkerchiefs and souvenirs of the jubilee. Would you believe it! In "The Dream of a Movie Fiend", Rudolph Valentino danced the Argentine tango and Charlie Chaplin, Jackie Coogan, and other famous stars were there in person. Thousands thronged to see them. And you got a chicken dinner for five cents, a real chicken dinner, too. Think of it! You were among those that crowded to see Dr. Pill in "The Passing Show," and the old maid, the old fashioned girl, the sissy boy, the widow, the flapper, the grind, and all the others who passed you by only too quickly. You liked that show, didn't you? Then you saw "The Ginties" sing and dance and entertain the crowd. King Tut, slumbering on the fourth floor, was aroused from his sleep of thirty-five centuries by the clamor of those who came to see the relics of his tomb, and his glittering jewels. Perhaps the voices of Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean as they gazed in amazement at the treasures, had something to do with the awakening of old Tut and his mummified wives.

OPERETTA CAST
Junior High Jubilee.

Our first Junior Jubilee was a great Success, great in the interest shown by the community, great in the quality of the program, great in the spirit of good humor that prevailed. Incidentally, more than nine hundred dollars came into our empty treasury.

Every teacher pushed, and every pupil boosted. That's why we went over the top.

FINE ARTS CLUB!!!

Where? Room 413.

When? Every other Friday.

What? A Fine Arts Club, under the direction of Miss De Forest.

We're a music class, but a club of all fine arts. We have written plays and given a musical program in the Senior High music appreciation classes. We are now beginning a study of pictures and are planning hikes and many good times where we will learn much of nature and her beauties.

It pays to take music first hour in 413.

PRAESIDI CORPORIS.

The first hour physiology class has organized into a club and taken the name "Praesidi Corporis," which means, "Guardians of the Body."

Although the club is made up entirely of girls, we have much pep, enthusiasm and school spirit, part of which we inherit from our busy, hard working teacher, Miss Towles. This we proved by winning the first prize, a delicious cake for selling the most tickets to the Junior Jubilee. We sold one hundred and sixty-four tickets to the operetta, making $41.00.

Our side show entitled, "The Dream of a Movie Fiend", attracted about one thousand people, but owing to the fact that we gave it free to over three hundred people, we collected only $34.25. Our total earnings for the Junior Jubilee fund were $75.25.

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves

The only large organization for girls alone in Northeast Junior High School, is the Girl Reserves.

The club was organized last fall under the supervision of Miss Margaret Lahr, the secretary from the Young Women's Christian Association. There are now fifty-two members, the number which will be greatly increased before the end of the school term.

The meetings have been very interesting and beneficial to all. They occur every two weeks. One of the most interesting was the World Fellowship. Each girl taking part represented a country. She dressed as do the natives of that country and gave a recitation about it. Some of the costumes were very picturesque, and some were extremely queer.

At the initiation, the advisers held a ribbon of white crepe paper in the form of a triangle, whose three sides signify the mental, spiritual, and physical development of the girls. The girls, each holding a small white candle, stood within the triangle and repeated the code, slogan, and purpose of the Girl Reserves. Then each of them, in turn, lighted her candle from the large white candle representing the Light of Christ, which stood on the table. They then marched off the stage, extinguishing their lights as they went.

The officers of the club are as follows: President, Kathryn Daniels; Vice-President, Ruth Campbell; Secretary, Winifred Hadley; Treasurer, Frances DuBois; Keeper of the Seals, Ella McCance; Publicity Chairmen, Lois Burdett, Nadine Carlisle.

The advisers are: Miss Elliott, Miss Armstrong, Miss Rose, Miss Phillips, Miss Baxter, Miss McClure, Miss Dobyns.

The keeper of the seal is the girl who takes charge of the honors. Each honor is a deed which will in some way beautify the lives of the girls who complete it. Honors are easily won by any girl and are classed in health, knowledge, service, and spirit. After having won the useful smaller awards, a ring of hammered silver, with "G. R." in a small triangle is awarded.

We are anticipating a splendid time at the Young Women's Christian Association in the near future. After swimming from twelve o'clock until one, we are to have lunch there.

Miss Abbott, the art instructor, is not an adviser but she deserves a vote of thanks for her willingly given services in poster work.

Comments from active members of the club:

"The Girl Reserves has given me a higher mental standard." Helen Lord.

"The Girl Reserves has shown me the way to appreciate the beautiful." Frances DuBois.

"Through the Girl Reserves, I have gained a deeper respect for my word." Kathryn Daniels.

"The Girl Reserves has given me many opportunities to serve others." Pearl Pound.

Junior High Student Council

The Junior High Student Council has been for the most part a boosting organization this year. We have boosted the basket ball games, the safety movement, the Nor'easter, Junior Jubilee, and too many other things to mention here. We meet every two weeks on Wednesday morning in room 308 for a half hour or longer if necessary, with Mr. Nowlin present.

The officers are: President, Houston Sides; Vice-President, Don Alexander; Secretary, Lois Wise; Executive Committee, Lorene Lilley and Douglas Gale.

Several of the teachers have, at different times, visited the meetings and given interesting talks. We have, in these meetings, studied school problems and have had lessons in salesmanship and extemporaneous speaking.

It will be with sadness, I am sure, that the first Student Council of Northeast Junior High leaves its interesting meetings and its adviser, Prof. C. H. Nowlin.

LOIS WISE, Secretary.

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS.

The clothing classes of Junior High made gingham dresses of various colors and styles, for spring.

The sewing classes taught by Miss Rose adopted an imaginary family, for which they planned and furnished a house. They planned the clothing, especially for the girl who is supposed to attend Junior High. The food classes are planning the menus for this make-believe family.

The clothing classes made the dancing costumes which were used in the operetta.

The cake which was given to the class that sold the most tickets for the operetta, was made by all of the food classes of Miss Rose and Miss Gufler. The cake was reported to be extraordinarily good, which shows that the saying, "too many hands spoil the dough," does not apply in every case.

The pupils in Miss Van Natta's expression classes have completed a round of scenes from Shakespeare's plays.

All the Nor'easter articles prepared by Junior High pupils were neatly typewritten by members of Miss Bradford's classes.

The pupils of the art department under the direction of Miss Abbott, helped to make the Jubilee a success by painting scenery and making placards and posters. They made fifty-five posters, many of which were extremely attractive.

The first hour art class in Room 400 has organized the "Handcraft Club." The president is Joe Brewer. Instead of having programs on club days, the members do advanced work such as polychrome and bronzing.

First, second, and third prizes for selling the largest amount of candy at the Junior Jubilee went to Viola Edgar, Sarah Ruth Eisman and Irene Henderson respectively.

THE NOR'EASTER

Competition between the classes for the honor of selling the largest number of tickets to the Junior Jubilee was very keen. The first prize, a large cake, went to the first hour physiology class, taught by Miss Towles. The second and third prizes, which consisted of candy and peanuts, were won by the first hour classes of Miss Phillips and Miss Leibengood.

Have you seen those beautiful tied and dyed bandana handkerchiefs? Perhaps you've asked us where we bought them and were quite astonished when you learned that we made them. Maybe you wonder who we are. We are some of the members of the third hour Art Club of room 400. Members of the Art Club have made many things this year. Some are useful, some beautiful, and others both useful and beautiful.

Some of them are: Parchment shades, poster work, cartooning, tied and dyed bandana handkerchiefs, polychrome, spatter work and linoleum block printing.

At every meeting we have learned something and are looking for new worlds to conquer.

The alert English Club of Miss Jenkins' room dramatized an English play called "I'll Try." The purpose in view was to make technicalities of English grammar less difficult and to vitalize everyday English.

The civics classes of Miss Jenkins' room have organized into four clubs which have been doing interesting and profitable work. Programs have been given and trips have been made to different institutions of interest to civic students. There exists a spirit of friendly rivalry among the four clubs that has resulted in active competition for things worth while.

The clubs of the first term undertook a number of helpful activities at the Christmas season; namely, the bringing of happiness into the life of a little invalid girl, the making of gifts to needy families, and to one of the charitable institutions of Kansas City. These pupils also contributed a neat sum to the scholarship fund and have given four copies of Longan's Parliamentary Law to the Northeast Branch Library.

The second term pupils gave a part of their funds to the Patriots and Pioneer Movement. The members of the civics clubs have endeavored to live up to the purposes expressed in their constitution which are as follows: To promote interest in civic affairs, to help the members to understand some of the fundamentals of parliamentary law, and to help them to become better citizens.

Athletics

JUNIOR HIGH BASKET BALL

The big thing in basket ball is not the securing of the larger score, nor the vanquishing of the opposing team. However desirable these objectives may be, there are other things of high importance which should not be overlooked. The manner in which the score is made is the real test of basket ball. The way in which the game is played determines the value of the sport both from the standpoint of the spectator and from the standpoint of the players. Coach Cohlmeier succeeded this year in building into his team that fineness and goodness and subtle quality, which lifts basket ball from the plane of science to the plane of art. When we consider that our team is only a junior high school team, with little or no previous experience on which to build, the achievements of our boys and the way in which they played the game give us just grounds for being proud of them. Their floor work, their aggressiveness, their strategy and unerring shots were of the highest order. They kept the ball always moving toward the goal. They provided plenty of thrills for the rooters; they played the game fast, accurately, and with apparent ease. Cool headwork, superior generalship, and fine sportsmanship were always present. There were no stars, or rather be it said that our team were all stars, for the team was well balanced, each player playing his place well.

We regret, of course, that our team did not secure first place in the Junior High School League but we have no regret as to the brand of basket ball they played, for the Northeast Junior High School team easily outplayed every competitor of equal size and weight. They played a good clean game of the genuine Northeast type.

The Northeast Juniors won second place in the Junior League.

JUNIOR PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

Some people may think the Junior High girls have not done much in athletics this year, but the following activities in which we have engaged will show what success has met our efforts and what we have accomplished for our first year in Northeast Junior High.

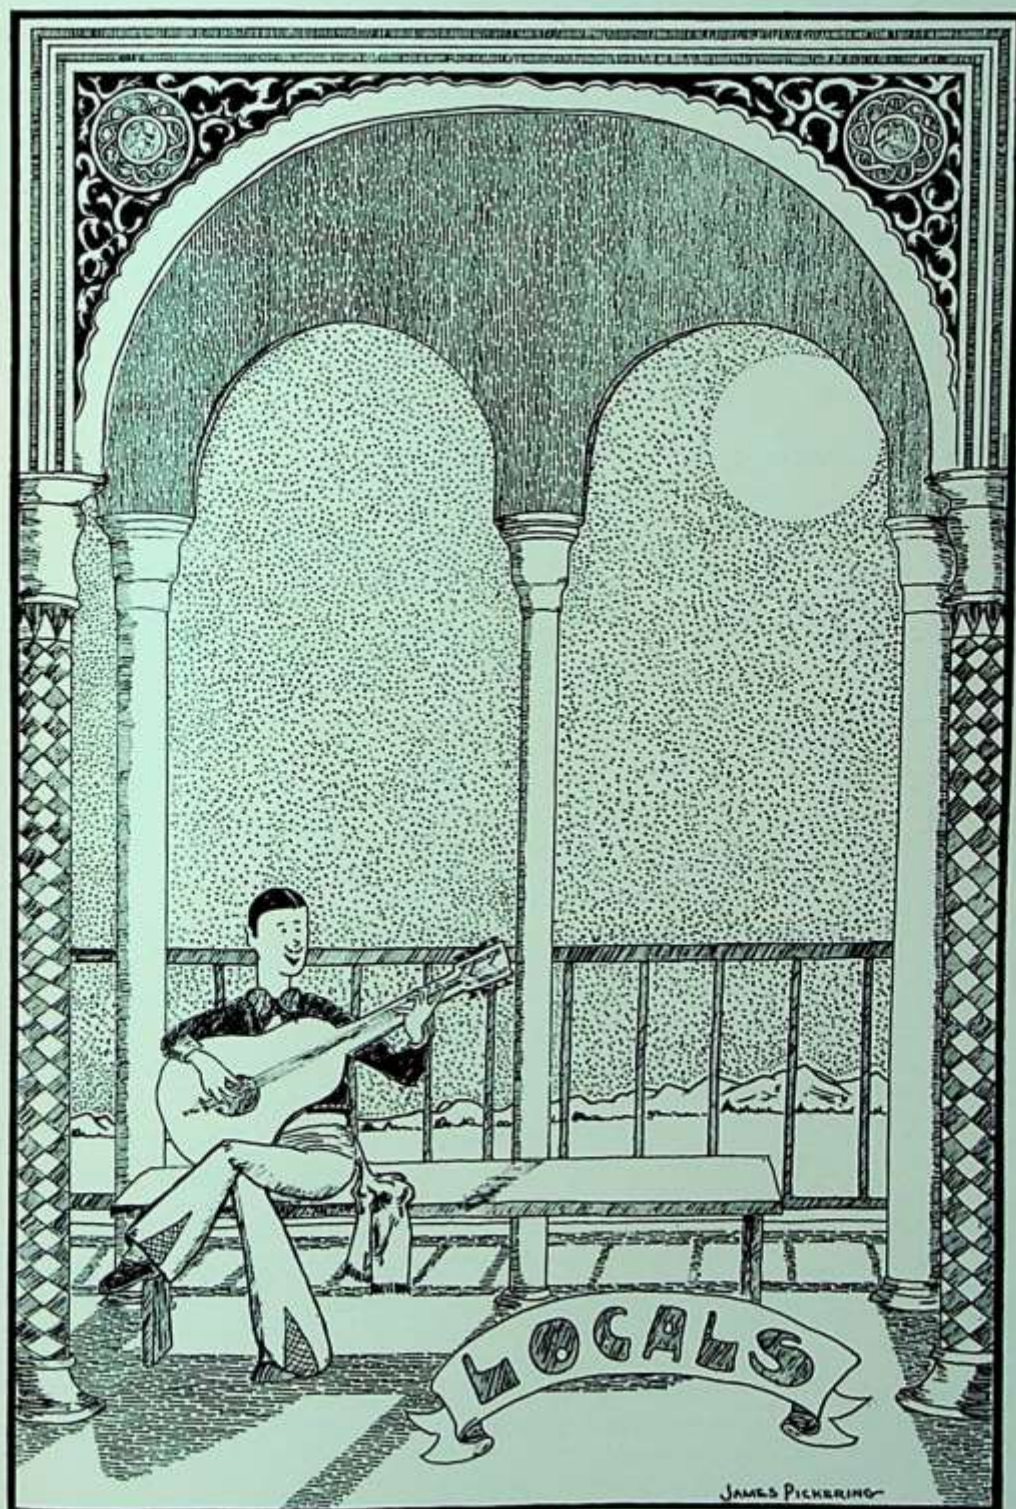

Swimming classes are held on Monday and Wednesday of each week. Our instructor, Miss Mealey, made a schedule which every girl must complete in order to secure a satisfactory grade. Every girl must be able to float on face and back, do alternating back stroke, simple back stroke, scull feet foremost, head foremost, pick up object on bottom of pool in four feet of water, submerge ten consecutive times exhaling under water, under arm stroke, rolling log, doubling floating, over arm slide, standing front dive, and swim for ten minutes without stopping. A swimming meet was held April sixteenth.

On Tuesday of each week games were played or track events were held. The Junior High girls' basketball team was very good.

We were always glad to see Thursday and Friday of each week come around as that is the time we are taught aesthetic dancing and folk dancing. May 25 a spring festival program was held, the name being "The Golden Wish." Each girl in the department participated.

SIGNED—

HAROLD B. TAYLOR, Editor,
EDGAR B. EICHMAN, Business Manager.

Razz—I bet I can make you say—No, I haven't.

Matazz—I betch' you can't.

Razz—Well, if you went into a restaurant, which would you ask for, tea or coffee?

Matazz—Why coffee, of course.

Razz—Oh, you've heard this one.

Matazz—Oh, no, I haven't.

Mr. Davis (to a Cadet)—Sit up, boy. Just because you wear a uniform, you don't carry an army cot.

Cliff Jordan—Gee, these seats are hard to sleep in.

Ed Eichman trying to dash out of Chemistry.

Mr. Davis—Sit down, you ain't in a freshman joinery class.

THE NOR'EASTER

Jinks—How did you get that paint on your trousers?
Spinks—I didn't, I got the trousers on the paint when I sat down.

It is easy enough to be happy
When life is a bright rosy wreath
But the man worth while
Is the man who can smile
When the dentist is filling his teeth.

Lady—I'm worried about my complexion, doctor. Look at my face!
Doctor—You'll have to diet.
Lady—I never thought of that. What color would suit me best?

Riff—I jest read an account of two girls getting lost in the Alps in mid-winter.
Raff—Terrible, were they frozen to death?
Jaff—No, they warmed themselves on mountain ranges.

Didjaever

See
"Benny" Taylor without his "specks?"
Olive Bell without a smile?
"Bobbie" Harris without a bright crack?
Warny Husted withoupe pep?
Jack Van Uleck separated from a grin?
Rudy Hapke with his hair mussed up?
Shorty Marshall not hunting "ads?"
"Johnny" Barnes without a new joke?
Manseur Haines without his muffler?
We never did!

---

Mr. Pinkney—What is a fly wheel?
M. T.—A fly wheel is a bicycle on which a fly rides.

---

When a man says that he will think it over he means he will go home and consult his wife.

Miss Murdock—What is that, thunder?
Johnny McGrew—No, that is Bickford running around the track.

Mr. Davis—The earth isn't a sphere.
Cye McColgin—No, it is a trapezoid.

---

Teacher—Children, would you rather come to order or after school?
Class—COME TO ORDER!

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

SAINT LOUIS

Washington University is one of the largest and best equipped Universities in the Middle West. Situated in St. Louis, adjoining Forest Park, it combines suburban location with the social, musical and artistic advantages of a large city.

The main campus consists of 160 acres of high ground upon which 12 large buildings of Tudor Gothic type of Architecture have been constructed. Two new buildings are now under construction and two more have been promised. Two large dormitories for men and one for women are located on the main campus. The Medical, Nurses' Training and the Dental Schools are located in the city where larger clinics are available. The libraries contain over 214,000 bound volumes and 79,000 pamphlets. Laboratory equipment is modern and complete.

The urban location of Washington University makes it possible for all departments of the University to be centralized in the city. Whatever course a student may select, the entire facilities of the University and the city are at his disposal.

The University includes the following departments:

|                                  |                                |

Frank S.—“An anecdote is a cure.”

William—“No, it isn't either. It's some kind of medicine.”

Heard in the hall—“I've got so much information in my neck that I can hardly turn my head.”

Moorman, reading definition from the dictionary—“Filial, pert to a son or daughter.” (He didn't recognize the abbreviation for “pertaining to.”)

Wonder how long it took Howard Hill to save up enough money to treat his whole history class to chewing gum? He'll think twice before chewing gum in Room 400 again.

Lynn—“I got 'Kidnapped' from the library the other day.”

Lola: “You did! Where did they take you and how did you get back?”

Teacher—“Has anyone any questions about the 'Lady of the Lake'?”

Freshie—“Which is the Lady of the Lake, the lady or the deer?”

Granville, on music paper—“Minute in G Minor Sympathy.”

NORTHEAST VIKING CREED

Northeast Creed

To Northeast High School,
I pledge my loyalty and allegiance,
I shall live for my school with honor
in both word and act,
I shall give the fullest of my strength
the best of my thought,
the trust of my conscience,
and the whole of my spirit.
In victory or defeat
I shall keep the faith.
