THE NOR'EASTER

This year, Northeast has progressed very rapidly in every field of work which she has entered.

Many new fields were entered, which tend to broaden the scope of the high school students. In these fields and in the older fields, new standards have been attained, which make it all the better for the students of the years to come.

THE NOR'EASTER

1935 NORTHEAST HIGH SCHOOL KANSAS CITY, MISSOURI

THE PREFACE

Great achievements in the field of athletics have marked the 1935 school year. This, combined with our usual high scholastic standing, has made this an outstanding year.

In an unique and pleasing manner we have compared the progress made in our teams with the progress made by our ever-growing city. With this in view, we have made Kansas City our theme, introducing new views of our beautiful skyline.

We heartily thank everyone who helped in making the Annual, and hope that this book will be a source of joy to students and teachers for many years to come. We also hope that the student body will do their best in patriotic spirit and in a financial way to induce the "Powers That Be" to continue the publication of the Nor-easter Annual perennially.

First in the heart of the student body is Athletics. To this Department, whose high ideals of fair play will forever be enshrined in the mind of every Northeast student, present or future, do we, the staff, dedicate this 1935 Nor'easter Annual.

It is our wish that the spirit of their memorable achievements shall not die, but live as long as our school shall live, dedicated to the promotion of the welfare of our cherished school and likewise to the upbuilding of Kansas City, which strives to maintain the enviable reputation of its notable school system.

The most modern public structure of its kind in our nation, an imposing yet practical municipal building, which was planned for the most efficient service to the public—is our new JACKSON COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

Near the north entrance stands the heroic equestrian statue of General Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the United States, for whom our County was named.

HONOR AND GLORY

Due to the unusual talent which caused us to be champions in the major sports, the Physical Culture Department is featured and placed at the first of the Annual. This is the first time in the history of the school that Northeast has acquired the championships on both the football and basketball fields, and where the track squad has had such a remarkable beginning.

In the Girls' Athletic Department, there was one of the largest arrays of talent which the school has had in many years. The girls proved that the boys were not alone in perfecting themselves in the field of sport.

The Military Division made the school proud, wherein the Rifle Squad made an enviable name for itself. This year there were no Sponsors, as all the high schools in the dity decided to eliminate those officers.

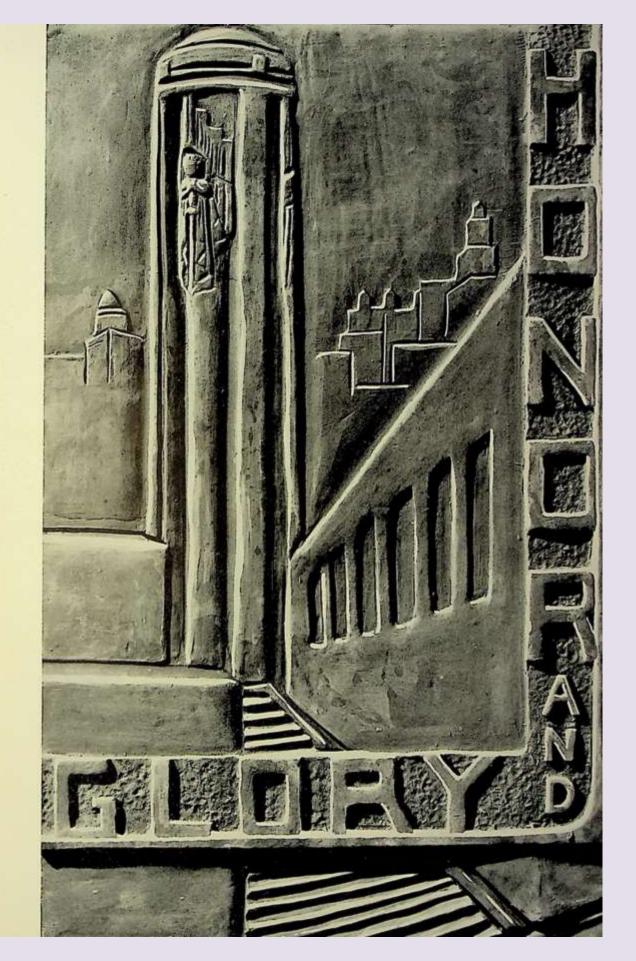

More than the usual number of students were on the Honor Roll, and secured entrance to the National Honor Society. For the first time in the history of the school, a student was re-elected for the responsible office of President of the Student Council.

The Literary contest was very close, due no doubt to the determination of students to make as fine showing as the Athletic Department does. In place of the Star's Oratorical Contest, there was a contest sponsored by the "American Legion," in which Northeast was well represented by the very brilliant Betty Thompson, who, although a girl, won the admiration of both contestants and judges.

The School Publications attracted the attention of the students by doing old things in new ways. They strove to stand on their own merits, and not to depend upon what the publications of former years did.

This year, instead of having one Christmas play, or a group of Christmas plays, the Dramatic Department presented a novel, modern entertainment, somewhat like a "night club." The Annual Senior play elicited many favorable comments, even though it was a modern comedy.

MR. PETERS Athletic Director

MR. DAVIS Football Coach

MR. PICKENS Financial Manager

ATHLETIC STAFF

The members of the Northeast coaching staff this year showed they were not satisfied with teams of medium ability. Our players upheld the fine athletic standards of former Viking teams because they were well trained in the fundamentals of the games. The ideals of sportsmanship and fair play instilled in them by the coaches made the Northeast teams respected by other schools.

Coach Davis instructed the boys who won the first football title for Northeast. Coach Peters again proved his ability by winning a co-championship in basketball, and he promises to have a strong track squad. Mr. Pickens has shown exceptional efficiency and accuracy in caring for the financial part of the Northeast athletic squads.

CHEER LEADERS

With almost perfect coordination and rhythmical movements, the 1935 Viking cheer leaders brought from the athletic spectators their voiced appreciation of the Northeast teams in the form of thundering cheers. Northeast was above the average in pep, enthusiasm and school spirit largely as the result of the work of these boys.

The reputation of a school depends considerably upon cheer leaders. Northeast was fortunate in having four boys that were so well trained in the problem of leading and arousing large crowds. C. G. Woodring, Robert Brady, Lowell Hall, and Anthony Merlino should be given special credit for their untiring efforts to inspire the Viking teams. C. G. Woodring, serving his second year, directed this successful group as head cheer leader.

NORTHEAST ATHLETIC HISTORY

Records that still stand unmatched; trophies won by capable, inspired, welltrained teams, and fine sportsmanship at all times, which illustrate the history of a school that ranks with the leaders in past and present athletic competition, not only in Kansas City, but also throughout the state of Missouri.

As far back as Northeast High School history goes, one can find outstanding athletic squads. The 1914 track team under Coach Root was awarded the Lowe and Campbell trophy. For the next two years the Vikings showed surprising strength in track, by winning the medley relay at the University of Missouri, and the Schmelzer trophy for high school track in 1915, as well as a relay cup in the University of Missouri meet, and the Missouri-Kansas high school track meet in 1915.

Coach Jim Sexton succeeded Coach Root in 1919, and showed exceptional knowledge of athletics by winning the Missouri-Kansas high school track "meet," for which the Viking squad was awarded a cup and ten medals.

In 1920 the Vikings captured the city basketball title and began a reign as state champions in this sport which lasted over a period of three successive years. The 440 yard relay team, for the third successive year, won first place at the state

The following year (1921), Northeast again won both the city and state basketball titles. This team did not lose a game.

Reaves Peters showed unusual ability as a coach even in his first year (1922), for his track team won the city and state championships as well as the Kansas relays. The basketball team captured the state title.

During the next three years the Northeast track squads set a goal that probably has no parallel in this city. Ten cups, forty-seven medals, and eight watches were the result of winning the Missouri Valley "meet," the M. U.-K. U. "meet," and the Drake relays in 1923. The Schmelzer trophy for the city quadrangular "meet" and the Acacia trophy won at the Kansas relays, were among the winnings. The following year championships at the state track meet, the K.C.A.C. indoor "meet," the M. U.-K. U. indoor "meet," and the Missouri Valley "meet" netted the team sixteen cups, fifty-nine medals, and thirteen watches. A national record was set in the two-mile relay and a world's record in the 440 relay.

1925 still found Northeast setting the pace for the track meets of Missouri. Seventeen cups totaled their winnings after they successfully won the K. C. A. C., and the K. U.-M. U. and the Missouri Valley titles. At the Drake "relays" they won the 440, half mile, and mile "relays." Northeast received the Shannon C. Douglas trophy for high school track in 1924-25 and also a trophy from the Kansas City Alumni of the University of Missouri. Also, Michigan University presented Northeast a cup for winning track two straight years.

Probably the greatest achievement in Viking athletics is the accomplishments of the 1927 basketball quintet. This team won the state title at Columbia and the national consolation championship at the University of Chicago.

In 1928 with several lettermen back for competition, the Vikings easily captured the city basketball title.

Another state track title was won by the Purple and White athletes in 1930. Northeast was successful in 1931 in winning the city basketball and city track championships. The school was awarded the Journal-Post trophy for basketball.

Coach Davis was given charge of the football team in 1931.

The formidable basketball team of 1933, led by Captain Bob Tuxon, tied for the Interscholastic League title and won the state consolation at Columbia.

No one doubts that the 1935 athletic teams will have contributed more than their share to Northeast's winnings, their skill and ability is unquestionable. Two city championships, one state title, and a track team which promises to show strength are the results of some of the finest teams Northeast has ever had-those of 1935.

FOOTBALL

CHAMPIONS! Playing the type of game that marks an outstanding team, the 1934 undefeated Northeast grid squad, under the direction of Coach Mount E. Davis, captured the first football title in Viking history and finished the season with a string of eight victories to their credit.

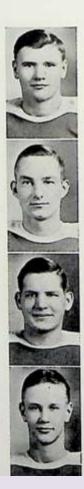

Northeast had visions of its first championship even before the league games began this year, for Coach Davis had ten lettermen and a capable squad of reserves around which to build the team which proved its knowledge of football in every game. Using the Notre Dame system of play the Northeast eleven functioned smoothly and effectively. Their play was spectacular from the onlookers point of view and they had little difficulty gaining ground, either by passing or running.

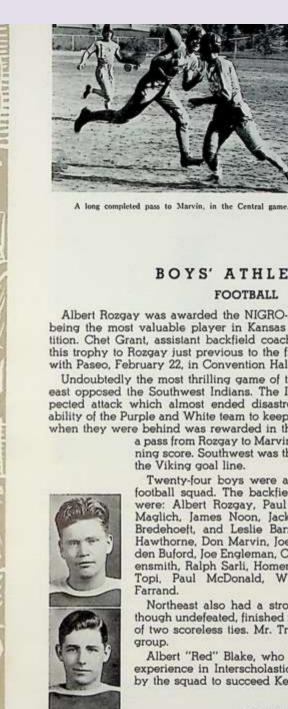

The Vikings were by far the best team in the Interscholastic League, both offensively and defensively. They scored a total of 153 points to 26 for their opponents. Not only the league teams fell before the Northeast machine, but also the squads of Wyandotte and Rockhurst, by scores of 19-6 and 20-6, respectively. The fine broken field running of the entire backfield as well as the blocking of the team in general is probably the reason for these victories. The team proved its worth regardless of weather conditions as the East and Paseo games were played in the mud.

Four Northeast players were awarded positions on the league All-Star Eleven, which is chosen by the coaches of the seven schools. These boys were: Al Rozgay and Paul Masoner, halfbacks; Kenneth Hawthorne, end; and Joe Juricak was named captain and center. Several Viking players were also placed on the second team and given honorable mention.

FOOTBALL

Albert Rozgay was awarded the NIGRO-NOTRE DAME TROPHY for being the most valuable player in Kansas City Interscholastic competition. Chet Grant, assistant backfield coach at Notre Dame, presented this trophy to Rozgay just previous to the final league basketball game with Paseo, February 22, in Convention Hall

Undoubtedly the most thrilling game of the season was when Northeast opposed the Southwest Indians. The Indians uncovered an unexpected attack which almost ended disastrously for the Vikings. The ability of the Purple and White team to keep fighting and not "blow up" when they were behind was rewarded in the last minute of play when a pass from Rozgay to Marvin was completed for the winning score. Southwest was the only league team to cross

Twenty-four boys were awarded letters on the 1935 football squad. The backfield players receiving letters were: Albert Rozgay, Paul Masoner, John Secco, Joe Maglich, James Noon, Jack Day, Joe Cohen, Eugene Bredehoeft, and Leslie Barnes; the linemen: Kenneth Hawthorne, Don Marvin, Joe Juricak, Albert Blake, Hayden Buford, Joe Engleman, Charles Buckley, Harry Hockensmith, Ralph Sarli, Homer Bryant, Carl Johnson, John Topi, Paul McDonald, Willis Harville, and Robert Northeast also had a strong second team which, although undefeated, finished in second place as the result of two scoreless ties. Mr. Troy Smith was coach of this

Albert "Red" Blake, who has already had two years experience in Interscholastic competition, was selected by the squad to succeed Kenny Hawthorne as Captain.

TROPHIES

To be placed in already more than well filled trophy cases, the cups shown above are the results of the work of these 1935 athletic teams.

When one views the Northeast trophy cases, he finds it difficult to imagine where will be placed the prizes of future Viking teams, should they be as successful as those of 1935.

TRIUMPHANT BONFIRES

Following a usual tradition at Northeast, bonfires were held to celebrate the winning of athletic championships. The flammable material was gathered on the top of Indian Mound, where the fires were lighted at darkness. Three of these fires were held; one for football and one each for the city and state basketball titles.

BASKETBALL

For the fifth time in Viking history the purple and white colors of Northeast have been placed at the apex of the high school basketball quintets in the state of Missouri. After tying with Paseo for the Interscholastic title, the flip of a coin gave Northeast the chance to represent this city in the state tournament.

Going to Columbia in high spirits, the Vikings were somewhat excited in the first game against Richland, but they were able to eke out a 27 to 21 victory largely as the result of the fine playing of Joe Maglich. Gaining confidence from this victory, Coach Peters' quintet triumphed successively over St. Joseph, Benton and Warrensburg to enter the finals facing Hickman high school of Columbia. Urged on by the small crowd of Viking rooters who had journeyed to the tournament, the Northeast team overcame an early eight point lead and playing well both offensively and defensively, scored a 23-21 victory to capture the title.

Around five veteran lettermen were built this squad which gave a flashy performance in almost every game. Only against the strong Wyandotte team (state consolation champions of Kansas) and the Paseo squad did the Vikings fail to display a winning style of play. Probably the real strength of this team may be judged by the decisive 35 to 15 victory over Southwest, where the Vikings passed, dribbled and shot with rare skill.

The success of this team was chiefly the result of the ability of Rozgay and Jeffers to break quickly, and the steady passing of the guards, Bredehoeft and Masoner, as well as the control of the tipoff and reliable handling of the ball at the post by the center, Johnson.

The team was captained by Al Rozgay and Gene Bredehoeft, who were playing their third year of Interscholastic basketball. Both boys were awarded first team letters in their sophomore year, and also were co-captains last year.

Northeast was well represented on the All-Star teams, both city and state. Bob Jeffers was placed on the Kansas City Star's first team, and Gene Bredehoeft and Al Rozgay were placed at guard and forward positions respectively on the team picked by the sports writers of the Journal-Post. Also, Carl Johnson was a second team choice, and Paul Masoner was given honorable mention. Following the finish of the state tournament at Columbia, Rozgay and Bredehoeft were selections on the state all-star team, with Johnson and Masoner on the second team.

All of these lettermen will be graduated this year, so Coach Peters will have to build for next year around the first team reserves, Layton and Denton, and this year's second team group. The second team also won a championship despite the fact that the squad lost one game.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The group shown above is one of the most outstanding basketball squads in this section of the country. They were successful in twelve of the fourteen games played this year. They scored a total of 336 points to 234 for their opponents. This is an average of 24 points a game for Northeast, to 17 for those who opposed the Vikings.

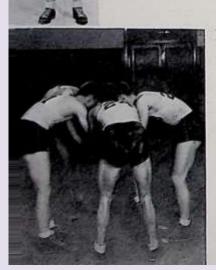

Two championships won by this group are shown by the trophies in front of them. They are co-champions of the Kansas City Interscholastic League and also state champions of Missouri.

The leading scorer of this strong quintet was Al Rozgay, forward, who had a total of approximately 90 points for the entire season. Of Rozgay's total, 37 points were made in the Interscholastic League, 31 were scored in the state tournament and the rest were made in non-league games.

Northeast was honored at the assemblies which were held to celebrate the winning of the championships for both Coach Phog Allen of Kansas and Coach George Edwards of Missouri were guest speakers.

BASKETBALL

Below are shown five Northeast (past and present) players who have captained the Viking teams that have won state championships. Joe Dehoney, the captain of both the 1920 and the 1921 teams, was an all-star for two years. Both years Northeast won state titles.

The 1922 state Championship team was captained by George Denniston, who was also captain in 1923, although this team did not win a state title. Four years this boy played on the Viking basketball teams and three of these years he was an all-star selection.

Earl Renfro, now a forward on the strong Jones store team, led the 1927 team not only to a state championship but also to  $\alpha$  national consolation title at Chicago. Renfro, who was also captain of the 1928 city championship team, was an all-star two years.

Co-captains for both 1934 and 1935, Al Rozgay and Gene Bredehoeft have shown the same fine type of leadership that has been displayed by the other captains. Both of these boys were city all-star selections two years, and state all-stars this year.

TRACK

With a strong squad of lettermen returning for competition the Northeast Vikings face the 1935 track season with two main objects in view: (1) to capture the city title in this sport, making a clean sweep of all three championships this year, and (2) to uphold one of the finest track reputations in the Kansas City interscholastic high schools. With the exception of last year, Northeast has always been near the top in this sport.

The first meet of the year was the annual inter-class affair, in which the groups finished in the following order: seniors, juniors, and sophomores. In the dual meet with Manual, April 5, Northeast easily won by the exceptionally one-sided score of 90 to 6. The Vikings allowed Manual only one first place, that being in the 440.

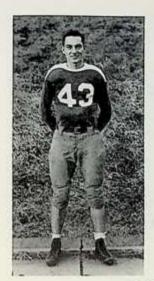

The boys, with reference to their respective events, who are likely to be point winners for the purple and white are: dash—Dye, Manning and Schoneman; Broad Jump—Rozgay, Dye, and Masoner; Pole Vault—Forrest, Maglich, and O'Shea; High Jump—Wilcox, Johnson, and Engle; 880 yard run—Ripley, Harville, Painter, and Morris; 440 yard run—Painter, Sekco, Kimak, and Naert; Shot Put—Juricak, Rozgay, Bredehoeft, and Buckley; High Hurdles—Masoner, Bredehoeft, and McAdams; Low Hurdles—Rozgay and Schoneman.

Paul Masoner, a high hurdler and broad jumper, was selected last year to lead this promising track group as captain.

A medley relay team competed at the Kansas relays April 20. This team consisted of four boys who ran distances of 440, 220, 220, and 880 yards respectively.

FOOTBALL STARS

Paul Masoner—halfback. Not only did he lead the Interscholastic League in scoring with thirty-one points, but he was probably the best blocking back.

Joe Juricak—center. Easily the most outstanding pivot man in the city. He was chosen captain of the all-star for his perfect ball feeding and tremendous defensive power.

Kenneth Hawthorne—end. The captain of the first championship Northeast football team, broke up interference, tackled hard and blocked with exceptional skill.

BASKETBALL STARS

Al Rozgay—forward. He was both city and state all-star for his ability to break fast, pass well and to shoot accurately.

Bob Jeffers—forward. Shifted from his usual position of guard to forward, Jeffers still proved a fine player and one of the smoothest on the squad.

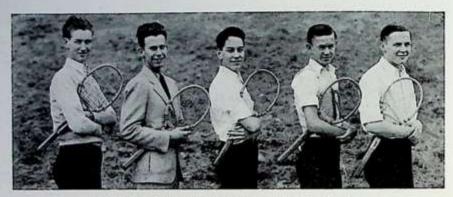

Gene Bredehoeft—guard. He also was placed on both city and state all-stars; a good dribbler and fine defensive player.

Row 1-Tozier, Fredericks, Hibbs, Smith, Kilroy, Absentee: Comaschi,

TENNIS

Competing in the Interscholastic League tournament at the Rockhill Tennis Club last fall the 1935 net team, although not at the top, afforded strong opposition for the other schools. One of the singles representatives, Jack Kilroy, advanced to the semi-finals by defeating players from Paseo and Manual. The members of this years team are: Captain Roy Smith, Jack Kilroy, Max Hibbs, Lawrence Comaschi, Frank Frederick, and Herbert Tozier. These boys earned places on the team as the result of an Intra-mural tournament which was open to all boys in the school.

Captain Smith and the latter two mentioned above will be eligible for Interscholastic competition next year, which should be the basis for a formidable team.

GOLF

Beginning Saturday, April 13, and playing four consecutive weeks on the eighteen hole course at Eastwood Hills, the four members of the Viking golf team played unusually well. Although not a major sport, golf holds a keen interest for many Northeast athletic followers. It is a sport that requires skill and patience and the 1935 team proved that it was a group that could be depended upon to play its best all the time.

The boys who composed the 1935 golf team were: Duard Boone, Frank Canton, Jerome Harper and Robert Porta. Canton, who is the only veteran of this group and the only letterman, was the captain.

Canton, Harper, Boone

MISS BLAND

Again, another successful year has been completed in the Girls' Physical Education Department. This is due to the careful instruction of Miss Stewart and Miss Bland who teach sportsmanship, the development of clean physical and mental habits, and the attainment of athletic skills.

AMERICAN RED CROSS LIFE SAVING

To pass the Junior or Senior American Red Cross Life Saving examination is one of the highest aims of all girls interested in swimming. This test is given by members of the American Red Cross Life Saving Examiner's Board.

Girls between the ages of twelve and seventeen and having at least eight hours practice are eligible to take the Junior Life Saving examination.

The applicant is required to disrobe in deep water and swim a hundred yards. She must demonstrate, in good form, the four carries:-head, cross-chest, hair, and tired swimmer's; and the three approaches:-back, surface, and underwater. She must break the three holds:-front, back strangle and double grip on the wrists. The applicant must administer artificial resuscitation, Prone Pressure Method.

The Senior Life Saving test is much harder. A girl seventeen years of age or a senior may take this test. In addition to the above mentioned requirements, a senior applicant must write an essay on "Prone Pressure Method of Resuscitation," and pass an oral quiz on life saving. She must carry a subject fully dressed for one minute; break two persons locked in front strangle. She must demonstrate the fireman's or saddle-back carry from shallow water.

After the applicants have passed the examination, they are allowed to wear an American Red Cross Life Saving Emblem and become a member of the American Red Cross Life Saving Corps.

THE NORTHEAST OLYMPIC CLUB

The Northeast Olympic Club is an athletic organization for girls in the Physical Education Department who have developed skill in certain lines of athletic endeavor. This club was organized in 1919 under the supervision of Miss Stewart, who is still the faculty advisor.

This organization is one of the most interesting in our school and its work is quite noteworthy. It promotes the spirit of fair play and good, clean sportsmanship among the girls. The girls form teams which play hockey, basketball, and volley ball as the seasons approach.

The officers for the first term: President, Rosalie Bodenhamer; Vice-President, Ruth Williams; Secretary, Virginia Worrell; Treasurer, Lorraine Hopkins; Reporter, Marie Ragan. Second term: President, Eileen Wachtel; Vice-President, Marian Garrett; Secretary, Virginia Worrell; Treasurer, Lorraine Hopkins; Reporter, Hazel Bowman.

SEALS

The Northeast Seals, a swimming club for girls, was organized in October, 1927, by Miss Ivy Clayton. The object of the club is to promote good health and physical development through swimming.

Under the supervision of Miss Vera Bland, the girls are taught the finer points of swimming and diving. Frequently, games such as water polo and water baseball are played. One of the big aims of the girls is to pass the American Red Cross Life Saving test.

The colors of this club are blue and white; the emblem, a seal.

The first semester officers were: President, Viola McLarnan; Vice-President, Kathleen Ferrell; Secretary, Erma Church; Treasurer, Bobbie Lee Bryan. Second semester: President, Erma Church; Vice-President, Viola McLarnan; Secretary, Dorothea Love; Treasurer, Kathleen Ferrell.

THE R. O. T. C.

"The general object of this course is primarily to lay the foundation of intelligent citizenship by inculcating in the students habits of precision, orderliness, courtesy, correctness of posture and deportment, leadership, and respect for, and loyalty to, constituted authority; and secondarily, to prepare him for further military instruction which will qualify him for a position of leadership in time of National Emergency."

This object of the R. O. T. C., which every cadet is required to learn, expresses very aptly the value of military training. Always the R. O. T. C. strives to build a fine physical, mental, and moral specimen out of a boy; and as a lesser aim to prepare him to serve his country in time of need. And rarely does it fail.

THE R. O. T. C. CIRCUS

On the night of April 12, the Thirteenth Annual R. O. T. C. Circus was presented in Convention Hall to the people of Kansas City. Twenty stirring events went together to make up a performance that is equalled in only four or five cities in the United States. After an entry with music played by the Westport High School Band, followed one exhibition after another of well executed drills by the crack drill teams of the Kansas City Battalions and of the leading universities and military schools of the Middle West. Northeast gave a splendid example of Company Drill for its share of the program.

In January, 1934, a charter was granted to the Viking Rifle Club by the Junior National Rifle Association. Since then it has grown to be one of the largest organizations of its type in Kansas City. It has two principal objects: first—to teach every boy the safe and correct way of handling a rifle; and second—to qualify every member as a Pro-Marksman.

An interesting system of awards has been worked out wherein a member earns medals as his skill with a rifle increases. Under the efficient instruction of Sergeant Healy a number of these medals were won. Staff Sergeant Herbert Stiver qualified for the Expert Rifleman Medal, next to the highest award that can be received for marksmanship.

From the instruction given the members learn the accurate use of a rifle and develop a high degree of mental alertness. It is from this club that the 1935-36 Rifle Team will probably be chosen.

The officers of the organization are:

President, First Lieutenant Ferdie Ohlsen Vice-President, Sergeant Jack Wilson Secretary, Carporal Lowell Hall Treasurer, Corporal Franklin Stubbs Executive Officer, Cadet Roger Williams

THE RIFLE TEAM

Tempofsky, Wilson, Capt. Hall, Stiver, Ohlsen.

The Viking Rifle Team brought much honor and glory to Northeast during the year 1934-1935. Because of his marksmanship and experience on the range Corporal Lowell Hall was chosen by Sergeant Healy as captain of the team. The other members were Major Robert Tempofsky; Staff Sergeant Herbert Stiver; First Lieutenant Ferdie Ohlsen; and Sergeant Jack Wilson.

The winning of the Annual City Rifle Match was the greatest victory of the year for the team. With hard competition from eight other Kansas City high schools, Northeast placed first with a score of 839 out of a possible 1000. Central came in second with 831 and East followed third with 820. All the men on the Viking team fired 165 or more to earn marksman medals. Ohlsen, the high man of the Northeast team, fired 173. Our other scores were Tempofsky, 169; Hall and Wilson tied with 166; and Stiver, 165.

As winner of the City Match, Northeast was entitled to compete in the Corps Area Match at Booneville, Missouri. Here it fired against sixty teams, the pick of the Middle West. While the team as a whole did not win a place, Corporal Hall tied for second place in the individual standing match with a score of 86 and was awarded a medal for his successful shooting.

THOUGHTS MARY LOUISE MEYER Clionian Literary Society

There comes a thought with each new dawn
That there will be some lovely thing—
A way-side flower, a breath of song—
To give me joy, to cheer me on.

A tiny rosebud drenched with dew, The high clear note of birds a-wing, The waxy-white of lily blooms, Billowy clouds against the blue.

And when the sun drops from our view, The western sky with splendor glows Until the shadows dull and tone Into a mist of purple hue.

Just one sad thought comes to my mind, That busy mortals so engrossed With worldly cares, and vain delights, These glorious beauties fail to find.

ORATION

"WHAT MEN HAVE FOUGHT FOR"

ROGER SON School at Large

Since the beginning of recorded time, one driving force has propelled civilization onward, that has been man's righteous desire for freedom.

Since the birth of empires, the theory has always prevailed that all sovereignty rested within the monarch. The King was all-powerful; his subjects mere pawns to be moved at his pleasure. Gradually, there spread over Europe a restlessness; an unseen spirit of dissatisfaction. Men began to think. Dreamers pictured vague and fantastic worlds where all men were equals. Cynics loosed pointed tongues against flagrant oppression of royalty. Philosophers sought and disseminated at every opportunity, the newly conceived truths of individual liberty.

The new feeling and philosophy soon found its way to America. In the year 1775, a nation's destiny was in doubt. We were three millions of people engulfed in poverty and dissension. A revolution was inevitable, and it came. In the year 1776 we were three millions of people, armed in the holy cause of liberty.

Then came the dash and vigor of our heroes at Lexington and Concord, the courage in the battery smoke of Bunker Hill, the prayers at Valley Forge, and the patriotic sacrifice along the Brandywine. Finally the English flag was lowered and in the midst of victory, a new flag unfurled, it grew,—dawn's first burst of Freedom! Our heroes have made our America a blessed institution representing human liberties. And yet there are people now sharing protection of the flag, its freedom and its peace, who seek not to preserve but to destroy our democracy. Such people,—such people are not true Americans. They understand neither American aspirations, nor American ideals. They do not hold at their full worth those precious principles which are the fruits of seven hundred years of struggle. They have never marched along the vanguard of liberty, along the steep and rugged highways to freedom on which the Magna Charta, the Bill of Rights and the immortal Declaration are the mighty mile posts. They have forgotten the ragged heroes of Valley Forge, Yorktown and Scrotogal To such insidious forces of evil, let every American oppose! Let us here and now, highly resolve, that no impious hands shall ever profone the American Ark of Covenant, that only true potriots stand sentinel at the gates of Democracy, lest traitors, masquerading under the banners of reform be allowed to pass and destroy the "American Temple of Freedom"!

Liberty, Justice, Equality! To these sacred principles we have devoted the wisdom of our sages, and the blood of our heroes. May God give us the courage, the wisdom and the fortitude to carry on.

SHORT STORY

ONCE THERE WAS A COUNTRY BOY

RICHARD BROWNE Benton Literary Society

For the tenth time Ray Howard, in an outburst of disgust and despair, ripped the paper out of his typewriter and threw it, crumpled, on the already littered floor. He was vainly attempting to write a short story for the Society Literary Contest. Only those who have tried to write short stories can know how he felt. Rising slowly, not unlike an old man, Ray wearily made his way into his father's study, "Dad," he asked, "do you know anything about writing short stories?"

Mr. Howard, a tall, thin, clerkly-looking man, looked up from his book and gazed patiently at his son. "Yes, Ray, I know something about writing, why?" "Well, Dad, the Literary Societies are going to have a contest and I have to write a short story for it. But I can't think of anything to write about." "That's nothing to worry about, son," said Ray's father consolingly, "why don't you write about a, w-e-l-l uh let me s-e-e, oh, I have it. Listen, a country boy comes to the city. He looks for a job but can't find one. One day he meets an old friend of his who is rich and who gives him a job. He makes good and falls in love with his friend's sister. They get married and he sets up a business of his own."

"That's it, Dad," cried Ray enthusiastically, "just wait until I get that written down. Boy! This is going to be a wow!" Ray rushed from the study to his battered typewriter and started writing at furious speed. This is what he wrote:

"Jack was a country boy. One day he decided to leave the old homestead and go to the city to earn his living. He looked for a job but could not find one. One day——."

While writing this Ray suddenly became aware of muffled merriment coming from behind him. He turned to see his elder brother Bob, who, weak with laughter, was sinking into a chair. Bob, after gaining control of himself exclaimed between shouts of amusement, "Boy, that's a winner! It ought to take the booby prize at least."

Ray glared angrily at him and retorted sharply, "Just because you graduated from State last year that's no sign you know everything about writing stories."

"Who said I knew everything about writing stories?" demanded Bob indignantly.

"You did."

"I did not."

Mrs. Howard, upon hearing the altercation, rushed into the room just in time to prevent a fight and shouted above the din, "Boys, boys, stop this nonsense right now. What's the matter, Bob?"

"See, Mom, Ray was trying to write something and I was trying to help—."
"Aw, he was not," interrupted the disgruntled author, "he was——"

"Ray, for Heaven's sake, be quiet," pleaded his mother. "Now, what were you trying to write?"

"Well, Mother, I was trying to write a short story for the Literary Contest but I couldn't think of anything to write."

"Let me see now, Ray, why not write about a farm boy who goes to the city and——"

"Yeah, that's it!" ejaculated Ray joyfully and he rushed to his typewriter to begin his story anew. Typing rapidly he gradually slackened his pace as his ideas lessened. Finally he stopped typing and scanned his work. With an involuntary exclamation of scorn he tore the paper from his machine and dashed it to the floor. He inserted another sheet of paper in the typewriter and with his elbows on the desk he stared moodily at the keyboard.

"Mother," called Ray, later that evening, "may I go over to Jim's house? His mother used to write short stories. Maybe she can give me an idea."

"Oh, I guess so," assented his mother, "but you be back home by ten-thirty."
Ray fled out of the door before his mother finished answering, on his way to a new idea for his story perhaps, who knows?

"Well, Ray," said Jim's mother after Ray had explained his mission, "the only one I can think of right now is this, you can have a mountain boy go to New York. Have him become a great actor or director, or a star newspaper reporter. He marries a girl who has a lot of money and finally becomes a powerful politician or something like that."

"That must be a pretty good plot because she's the third one to think of it," mused Ray to himself. Aloud he said, "Well, I can try it anyway. Thanks a lot, Mrs. Adams."

It was almost midnight when Ray covered his typewriter and stretched. Smothering a yawn he said half-aloud, "Gosh, I'm tired. Guess I'll go to bed." The plot was still unshaped.

The next morning Ray consulted his English teacher about a plot for the short story. She offered this one: "Ray, why don't you write about a country boy who goes to the city and———"

He thanked her politely. But once outside the door the remarks he muttered to himself were none too complimentary towards his teacher.

During study hall Ray sat at his desk imagining the scene at the Society Meeting when his contribution should be called for. Grinning faces. Stern faces. Expressionless faces. Standing before the President of the Society, stuttering. Frightened. In answer to his prayer comes a guardian angel. Gently, oh, so gently is he removed from among the seething mass of howling, gloating demons, his companions. Relief in his welcome trance.

Or perhaps this:

At the meeting admitting his failure to prepare a story. Three terrible ogres, the Society officers, bearing down on him, brandishing clubs. Seized roughly and thrown down, down—down—down—will he never stop falling, falling into this bottomless pit, the penalty for his failure. Awaking, as if from a deep sleep, he found himself shaking and the sweat cold on his brow. Such is the potency of imagination.

On the night of the contest, Ray nervously awaited the decision of the judges. He leaned forward in his seat, straining to hear every word, as if fearing he would miss the decision that he hoped to hear. Finally The Moment came! The deep, bass voice of the chairman of the judges boomed out, "First place for the short story goes to——Raymond Howard."

Ray sat stunned. He had won first place. No, no it couldn't be true. There must be some mistake. Jim Adams, who was sitting next to Ray, shook him and whispered hoarsely. "Go on up to the stage. They're waiting for you. Hurry!" Mechanically, Ray walked up to the platform. He was unaware of the wild storm of applause that filled the hall. After receiving his award he returned to his seat. Jim thumped him on the back and asked to read his story. Ray drew a copy from his pocket and gave it to him.

This is what Jim read:

"For the tenth time Howard Ray, in an outburst of disgust and despair, ripped the paper out of his typewriter and threw it, crumpled, on the already————"

ESSAY

GRAMPA

LORNA PHILLIPS Clionian Literary Society

No one of us guessed that, when the door of our home opened to embrace grampa, he had only a meagre ten years to add to his already seventy four. Perhaps we should have accorded him the title of "grandfather"; however, we allowed him not even the dignity of "grandpa," but minimized it to a quick and careless "grampa."

In stature grampa was tall and erect. His eyes were of keenest blue, his hands small but strong, and his chin hard, not from harshness or cruelty, but from an overwealth of experience. He possessed a rare advantage in regard to the shade of his hair. Instead of the usual mass of silvery-sheened silk he possessed, to his death, strikingly bright auburn locks. He was every inch an aristocrat; humble, yet with a contradictory pride; gentle, but firm. Such a description of him, like a photograph, gives no clear impression of his real personality and character.

In his declining years his feeble and aged body proved to be but little irritation or limitation to the unfailing vigor of his mind. Often he would mentally travel to distant Kentucky, his first, and, in his heart, his most loved home. At such times he left, forgotten, the thoughts of the present while in retrospect he would live again with even added zest, supplied from memory, adventures and experiences of other days and other firesides. Occasionally he would recount these tales of his youth to us, etching them with amazing effectiveness upon our childish imaginations. Strange that so many when young, look to the future for all good; and when old, look to the past, often with little concentration on the present although it should be one's most perfect hour.

He pursued only one hobby. This was the collecting of pencils. Invariably there was a great bunch of them tied by a stout string tucked away in his trunk. The reason for such a hobby we could never understand as he never wrote or received letters. Perhaps the bright colors and variety of sizes provided interest for lonely hours. His grandchildren, unwittingly, finished this hobby for him. A hint, perhaps a little pleading, and he would produce them, and let each one have his choice.

His literary tostes were pathetically limited but adequate. His library consisted of the Bible, of which he had three copies, each well worn from use rather than from age,—and an almanac. In this latter book he placed surprising confidence. Many minutes each day were devoted to contemplation and speculation on the morrow's weather. He predicted many "picnic days," more often less from conviction than from a desire to see an expression of pleased expectancy on the faces of his grandchildren.

National and international affairs were never capable of receiving as much of his interest as did the least new excitement occurring in the family. The latest clever remark of the baby, a new game, a new pair of shoes, or any other equally unimportant, yet greatly important, event of the family intrigued his interest more. He often called us to his room and asked us to read to him though he was well aware that our ability did not exceed anything greater than a first, second, or third grade reader. He would endlessly interrupt us with queries concerning our school work, but would always ignore our stumbling paths through prose. It wasn't at all his desire to hear the simple sentences, but looking through the clearer understanding of today I know it was companionship he wanted. "Grade card" day was always interesting to him, that sensational day when we children trod the blocks home with a definite expression of reluctance or pride. Should he learn of an exceptionally high grade he made it known to his friends with a beaming countenance, as if it were a direct compliment to himself.

Grampa had all the requirements needed to gain success. His infinite patience and endurance were good companions for his willing muscles. He might have become well known in the world, but he preferred a quiet existence. Because of this desire he was what he most wished to be, a farmer. Anyone tasting the vegetables from his garden would have immediately recognized that he was an artist in this line. From the earliest spring lettuce and radishes, to the latest fall turnips, his vegetables had a flavor far above that of the average.

His two sons inherited many of the characteristics and beliefs of their father. They, however, were prone to wander to strange places, see new faces, and make new friends. Grampa, who to his last day was convinced there was no sun so bright, no grass so green, no neighbors so loyal and true as those in his native Kentucky, never quite understood their desire, but, although he did not understand, he did not condemn. He accepted their wanderings with his usual calm good nature and welcomed them home with deep pleasure. Our grandmother had been, for many years, resting in the old, family cemetery, yet he spoke vividly to us of her many virtues and wished that we might emulate them.

In thinking over the brief years in which I knew grampa, I find myself unable to point an accusing finger at anything that might be termed a vice, unless one might find fault with his insatiable appetite for that filthy weed known as tobacco. Every day he would dispatch a messenger, my younger brother, to the local drug store to obtain his bag of "chaw" tobacco. Its brand I might have forgotten, had not my brother reminded me that he is called "Mail Pouch" even to this day by the druggist.

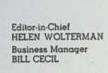

He spent many a twilight hour soothing both himself and us children with simple tunes of old hill songs. Sometimes he would accompany these on his "fiddle." He played with a deep sympathy that made negligible the uncertain merits of his violin. "Polly Wally Doodle All the Day," "Zeb Turner's Gal," and others would follow in rapid succession. These were always brought to a brilliant conclusion with a lively rendition of "Turkey'n the Straw." His versatility along musical lines also included a marked ability with the Jew's harp. How spellbound we were at his apparent ease in playing this queer little instrument, yet how futile were our own efforts at mastering it!

Memory insists that I add to my recollections of grampa the picture of him basking contentedly in the sunshine that streamed down on our large porch. On these days of laziness he would whittle in an apparently aimless fashion until, magically, there would appear an exquisite basket fashioned from an acorn, or, perhaps, a peach seed. Sometimes a small chain would appear from a bar of wood, or, perhaps a puzzle whose secret greatly charmed us.

I believe that grampa was the most unselfish person I have ever known. Every bit of cake, candy, or fruit carried to his room would be sent back, carefully divided into four sections. "One for each of the children," was the way he explained it. This quality of his character was indelibly impressed upon us when, after his death, we were cleaning his room. While going through the simple belongings in his dresser drawers, we came upon what had once been a bright and luscious apple, our last gift to him. It was carefully peeled and accurately divided into four sections. We could almost hear grampa saying, "One for each of you children."

As I think of grampa now, I find him far more impressive than during my earlier years. He was just a simple, old man, deeply interesting; one of a million, yet, one in a million to me.

THE NOR'EASTER STAFF

We, the Nor'easter Staff of 1935, have endeavored to attain the standard set for us by former staffs. Highest in our minds has been the thought of pleasing our patrons. This year we are offering to you an Annual of modernistic design, in which to publish the important accomplishments of this school year of 1934 and 5

On February 15, we attempted to show to you some of the things which appear in this book. The cast included: Helen Wolterman, queen; Betty Smith and Josephine DiCapo, pages; Boydene Burns, prologue and Jack Kilroy, Ray Capps, and James Papadakos, subjects. In the program, we were assisted by the girls' trio; the rifle team; the four football all-stars; the senior class officers; the Cheer Leaders and Barbara Ketchum and Paul Shoemaker.

We sincerely hope that this '35 Annual will give you much pleasure now and in later years.

ANNUAL ART STAFF

One of the newer features of the Nor'easter Staff is the Art Staff, which is appointed by the Art Advisor, Miss Newitt, with the Art Editors. The Art Staff, composed of twenty-one members, is divided into four committees. Earl Price and Jeanne Altergott are members of the first group which made the lettering, the introductory designs, and panels of individual pictures.

The members who made the border designs composed the second committee. Frances Messinger and Lucia Benny cut the Hindu blocks; Laila Morgan and Geneve Childress, the Chinese cuts; Dorothylu Devin and Helen Wilson, the Japanese cuts; and James Teason and June Fall, the American Indian designs. The inner borders were cut by Robert Todd.

The members who cut blocks of city and school compose a third group. They are Charlene Hartman, who cut the block of Andrew Jackson, Carmeleita Hurst, who made the block of the school. John Weir and Billy Cline made the lining blocks and also some of the city blocks, and Laila Morgan and Virginia Wright also made several blocks of the city. The large skyline was cut by Martha Tullis.

The members of the fourth group made the clay plaques of which photographs were made for the three division pages. Culture and Recreation plaque was made by June Vance and June Fall; Power and Progress plaque was made by Ruth Diels; and Honor and Glory plaque was made by Kathleen O'Laughlin.

Row 3—Vaughn, Franano, Williams, Stumph, McCulley, Day, St. John, McMahan.

"Digging up the news" was no easy task, especially with a group who had just had a three months vacation in which to forget their "cub" pointers. But despite this handloap and the lack of exciting events in the first few weeks of school the staff published a paper "second to none," teeming with knowledge and human interest.

By catering more to the readers' interest the staff boasted a large subscription and has received considerable praise from the student body.

The Courier stall of the second semester has endeavored to make each paper an improvement over the previous one. A column commenting on the news of the day and cartoons depicting various school affairs are two new features which this stall introduced. These improvements were received favorably by the student body.

It was surprising to find that Northeast had so much available talent. The best features were chosen to make an all-star show.

The success of the show could not have been possible had it not been for the instructors who directed the talent. Those persons were Miss Hobbs, of the expression department, Mr. Chaffee, of the vocal music department, Mr. French, director of the orchestra and bond, and Mr. Peters and Miss Stewart, of the physical culture department.

THE PATSY

On May 3 and 4, our annual Senior play, "The Patsy," a three-act comedy, was presented.

The play was especially successful because of its portrayal of human intercourses.

The cast was:

CULTURE AND RECREATION

The student body showed a greater interest in societies this year, for in every society large numbers of new members were installed. This must mean that the younger generation is taking a greater interest in literary work, which is what the elder people have been praying for. Even if it is not, we believe that the members this year showed the people what an asset literary societies are.

A few new clubs were organized this year because of the desire of the students. They seem to become more popular every year, and this year was no exception.

This year, instead of having a large group picture of the Sophomore and Junior classes, and in order that every person could see himself, the student body voted to have home room pictures.

The Girl Reserves and Y. M. C. A. have done themselves proud, by instilling in the boys and girls of Northeast, high Christian ideals of fellowship.

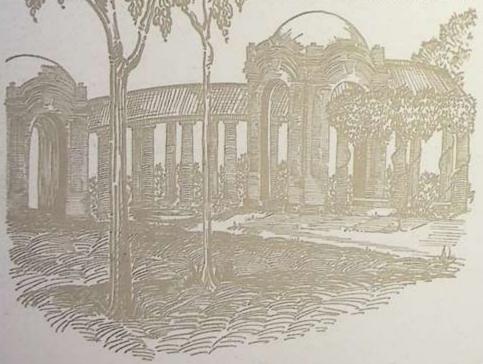

Snapshots of this year were very good, many new original poses being made. The best group of snapshots was made by the Debaters, with the Thetas second, and the Clionians third.

A new hovel idea in the features this year is the idea of having baby pictures of the students and faculty.

This year the music department is in a division by itself. There is a picture of the girl trio, the Sub-Debs, who have been very entertaining and popular the whole school year. In the annual music contest, again Northeast showed the people that it is of a musical mind as well as of a sporting mind.

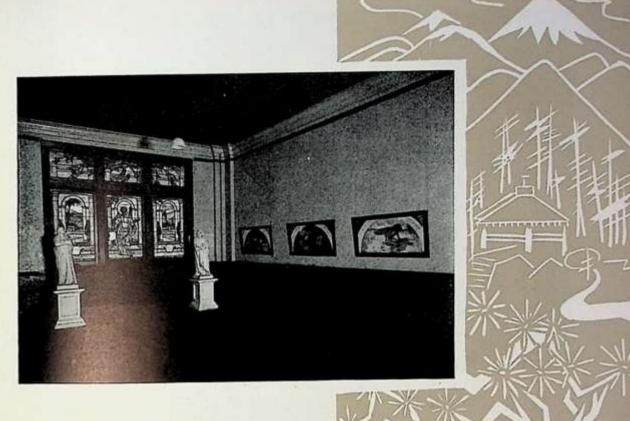

Many outstanding posters were made this year by the art department, and it is fair to say that next year the crt will have to be unusually good to outshine this year's posters.

The bookplates of this year showed many new original designs which are greatly improved over some of those that are made by highly paid artists.

NORTHEAST SOCIETY OF DEBATE

Winning first place in the annual snapshot contest gave the N. S. D. a good start for the 1934-35 season; a start which the society was quick to take advantage of. Inspired by this first success we went on to defeat the Benton Literary Society in a closely contested debate. Our social events this year have consisted in the Inter-society Dance and a big picnic and weiner-roast, which approximately forty boys attended.

We do not want to give the impression that all we do in our society is win contests and have parties. The Northeast Society of Debate was organized in 1913 for a three fold purpose. First, to develop a greater interest in the literary world about us. Second, to augment the feeling of democracy which is so necessary in our high school contacts. Third, to start us on the road to right living by good teaching and example. In our initiation the basic principles listed above are presented to the incoming members by having them take the oath on books of Shakespeare, Lincoln and the Bible, respectively.

Mr. Ball has been our advisor for the past nine years, and the society is looking forward to many more successful years under his guidance.

ALPHA LITERARY SOCIETY

The Alpha Literary Society is the oldest society in the school. It was organized October 13, 1913, for the purpose of encouraging social life and developing literary ability. Six times it has shown its literary supremacy in the annual contest. Its flower is the Jonquil; its colors are gold and white, and its motto is "Esse Quam Videre" which means "To Be Rather Than to Seem."

Its present sponsor is Miss Clara De-Witt. As a social event, it celebrated its birthday with a feast and an attendance at the football game.

CLIONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Row 1—Snipes, Brooks, Charlton, Nottberg, Miss Murdock, Chanal, Meyer, Rodahaffer, Wahl, Diels, Row 2—Taulbert, Lehman, Snipes, Aldridge, Warford, Wright, Nordberg, Kerr, Kunz, Noggle, Row 3—Coleman, Bechtel, Cox, Ostert, Kilroy, Davis, Foehlinger, Nolte, Bell. #### BENTON LITERARY SOCIETY

With the founding of the Benton Literary Society in 1921 by Mr. G. W. Davis, a society was supplied Northeast with many of its most enterprising leaders. The general purpose of the society is to promote literary interests, leadership, and good fellowship. The colors are blue and gold; the motto: "In Hoc Signo Vincemus," meaning, "By This Sign We Conquer." Under the advisorship of Mr. W. R. Sears, the Bentons are looking forward to the future with optimism.

CLIONIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

In 1916 the Clionian Society was organized to uphold the appreciation of good literature in developing well-rounded lives in its members. Its motto is "Seek the Beautiful;" its colors, red and white; its flower, the red rose.

The average attendance at the weekly meetings has been consistently high; always forty or more of the fifty-five girls belonging are present. This fact shows that the society is vitally interesting to its members.

Among the social events of the year were the Inter-society Dance and a line party followed by a tea. The annual Spring party, a formal bridge luncheon, was the high point of social interest.

The meetings throughout the year were enlivened by interesting talks given by members of the faculty. These talks have proved to be both inspirational and instructive.

In the annual Literary Contest, the Clios always take an active part and win their share of the medals. Miss Murdock is the advisor.

DELTA LITERARY SOCIETY

Row 1—Miller, Carol, Smith, Ruby (Pres.), Miss Thompson, Campbell, Duntan, Wade, Hess. Row 2—Snackenburg, Snackenburg, Wiseman, Miller, Bryan, Cordry, Hall, Hall, Gravetter. #### DELTA LITERARY SOCIETY

The Delta Literary Society was organized Feb. 25, 1921, and is one of the two younger societies at Northeast. Its purpose is to promote the literary ability of its members and to uphold the ideals of Northeast. Its colors are green and white and its motto is "Always Faithful." The flower of the Delta Society is the lily of the valley.

Miss Anna M. Thompson is the present advisor. This year we celebrated our social event with a line party and tea at the Egyptian Tea Room.

THETA LITERARY SOCIETY

This year the Thetas have again upheld their high standard. They placed second in the "Snapshot" contest and two of their members, Ruth Aronson and Virginia Harland, were chosen to speak as representatives from Northeast during the Charity Drive. Mr. Miller, Mr. Salter and Mr. Marsh were guest speakers during the year, their subjects being, "The Oration," "The Essay," and "The Short Story," respectively. There are fifty-four members in Theta and Miss Baxter is the present advisor.

DELPHIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

The Delphian Literary Society was organized in 1916. It is the fourth oldest, and one of the two mixed societies at Northeast. The Keystone and Aster were chosen as the emblems for the society, and purple and gold were adopted as colors.

The society was organized for the study of English literature, and the fostering of higher ideals in the social life of Northeast.

The motto of the society is "Virtute, Non Veris," which means, "Deeds, Not Words."

In its career the society has won the annual Literary Contest three times, in 1919, in 1923, and in 1934.

Mr. Calvert is the present advisor.

THE INTER-SOCIETY DANCE

The annual Inter-Society Dance was held this year on November 23, 1934, in our Gym, which was appropriately decorated with streamers and the banners of the societies. This year, as before, the N. P. III society alumni attended as regular society members. There were about seventy couples in all. Most of the faculty were present. Each society was allowed to invite five alumni to the dance. "The Cavaliers," an eleven-piece orchestra, furnished the music. Punch and wafers were served during the intermission. Committees for the dance were:

NORTHEAST MATHEMATICS CLUB

The Northeast Mathematics Club was organized by Mr. R. E. White in 1916, for the purpose of creating an interest in higher mathematics among the students. Mr. White has been advisor of the club for many years. Mr. Miller is the present advisor. The emblem of the club is the geometrical figure of the Pythagorean theorem. The club work enables the members to study special problems which are not ordinarily studied in the regular course.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

For the purpose of promoting interest in commercial work, the Northeast Commercial Club was organized March 19, 1922, to have programs consisting of bustness talks, readings and visits to some places of interest. During the past year, we have had many interesting and exciting meetings, with several social functions.

The slogan of the club is "Efficiency Wins." The colors are gold and silver, which represents our two principal coins.

The membership of the club is limited to members who have had some form of commercial work. Boys and girls who are interested in such work may join. Mr. Coleman is the advisor.

THE MILLIKAN CLUB

This club was named for R. A. Millikan, who is experimenting with cosmic rays, and was organized by Mr. L. A. Pinkney in 1916. The Club was honored in Edison Hall when Mr. Millikan was in Kansas City, May 4, 1934. During this year the club has visited the Auto show, and the Power and Light building. Its members intend to visit the Telephone building and the Power plant. The average membership is twenty-five.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais, les Penseurs, etait fonde au mois de septembre en 1914. Le but de cette Societe est d'offrir aux membres un moyen d'augmenter leur connaissance de la langue francaise, de la parler avec plus de facilite, et de la comprendre quand on leur parle dans cette langue. Puis, les membres arrivent a connaître plus intimement les grands chefs-d'oeuvre de la litterature francaise, l'architecture de ce beau pays, le caractere du peuple francais, les coutumes, les moeurs, et, en effet, l'importance de la France, de sa civilisation, de la langue francaise, non seulement au point vue de la diplomatic, mais aussi de l'art, de la science et de l'industrie.

NORTHEAST ART CLUB

The Northeast Art Club, which has completed its twelfth year, has successfully carried on among its members its work of developing a more extensive appreciation of art.

This year, as in former years, the club worked toward a definite goal, two projects being undertaken. The first semester; artistic photography, the second, the making of puppets. During the first semester meetings, material was studied that would be helpful in actual photography. After this study the group took several trips on which photographs were taken, applying what had been previously learned. The making of puppets was started with the intention that it should continue next year.

Another activity of the club was the judging of the snapshot contest between the literary societies of the school. Miss Newitt is the advisor.

THE GIRL RESERVES HIGH SCHOOL CLUB

The Girl Reserves High School Club is a Christian organization which brings girls into a closer fellowship with each other.

The Northeast Y. M. C. A. was founded in 1920 by its present sponsor, Mr. Harry Harlan, Its purpose is to create, maintain and extend throughout the community, high standards of Christian character.

NEW PLAN III COLLEGE Y. M. C. A.

Early in the first semester, a group of N. P. III boys, finding it essential to continue the spiritual guidance and fellowship of the "Hi-Y" club, decided to start a College Y. M. C. A. The objects of the club were to obtain spiritual guidance and to promote good fellowship among the N. P. III boys.

THE DRAMATICS CLUB

DRAMATIC DEPARTMENT

Row I—Claude Shumway, Virginia Harland, Eva Hitchcock, Betty Bell, Anna M. Chanal, Margaret Nottberg, Elizabeth Pinkerton, Mary G. Bryan, Geraldine Price.

Row 2—Geneve Childress, Jane Vance, Charlotte Draper, Boydene Burns, Shirley Pierce, Helen Wolterman, Ruth Pfelfer, Mary Edna Childress.

With the purpose of assisting the pupils further in their speech work, the Dramatics Club was organized by Miss Helen Hobbs in 1918. The history of the play is studied. Various long and short plays are interpreted. The pupils learn how to set and costume plays and how to "make up" the characters.

This year the picture includes the Dramatics Club and also members of the department who had distinguished themselves.

THE STAGE CREW

Hood, French, Conway; Absentee, Halley

The stage crew was organized in 1928 for the purpose of assisting with the plays and assemblies. The heads of the crew this year were Don Hawley and B. C. Hood. Don Hawley, Lee Conway, and Jack French were electricians. B. C. Hood was in charge of the scenery. Mr. Pinkney is the electrician advisor and Mr. Roedl, the scenery advisor.

This year the crew did unusual work on the Viking Varieties, the rendition of "The Patsy," and the Annual staff's assembly. Various members have assisted in other events such as the Inter-Society dance and operating the machine when the instructors present slides.

JOKES FEATURES SNAPSHOTS

SNAPSHOTS

The annual snapshot contest sponsored every year by the Nor'easter Annual is one of the most exciting of all the various activities in which societies take part. It almost equals the enjoyment and pleasure derived from the Literary Contest. This is a thing which we enjoy not once but many times. We enjoy it first, of course, when the pictures are taken, then we relive the many humorous and embarrassing situations each time we look over the photographs.

The Debater pictures were taken, some at Cement City and some at the home of Sewell Starke.

The Debaters feel that this first place in the snapshot contest was awarded a group that worked hard on this task not only in the interest of the society but also to help to make this section of the Nor'easter successful.

SNAPSHOTS

All societies have co-operated especially well in the Snapshot Contest this year and the snapshots were unusually interesting. The Debaters won the contest because of the cleverness of the pictures. The Theta Literary Society placed second in the contest. The Thetas won first place last year in the contest.

This Snapshot contest has been, perhaps, one of the most amusing events for the societies. Sometimes the pictures are taken at students' homes, Cliff Drive, and the Concourse. This year some of the pictures were taken at Cement City.

The Art Department has cleverly arranged the snapshots this year. Although the snapshots are smaller they have been led off the page to give it a clearer effect.

MR. CHAFFE

MR. FRENCH

MUSIC STAFF

The two men responsible for the work done at Northeast year after year are Mr. French and Mr. Chaffee. Much may be said concerning the excellent work done by these two departments. The high standard that is maintained is, without doubt, the best reason for Northeast's excellent results.

RESULTS OF SOLO CONTEST

The annual solo contest was held in the assembly Friday, April 26, 1935. The winners of the contest are as follows:

Mezzo-soprano Solo—Naomi Whitmire; Baritone Solo—Charles Saunders; Soprano Solo—Laura Copponi; Tenor Solo—James Papadakos; Alto Solo—Inis Yancy; Bass Solo—Don St. Louis.

The contest not only benefits the soloists in appearing before a large audience, but is looked forward to and enjoyed by the student body as well. This year Mr. Charles Cease acted as judge. Mr. Cease complimented the accompanists as well as the soloists.

Drew, Nagel, Sconce.

THE SUB-DEB TRIO

This year a trio of girls known as the Sub-Debs became quite popular with the student body, especially during the football season.

Aside from achieving close harmony, the girls originated a pep football song that the student body immediately adopted. The girls being members of the voice classes, entertainment was furnished for various school activities, including the Viking Varieties and P. T. A. entertainments.

THE PHYSICS LAB SPEAKS

To the uninitiated I represent much experimental work. "For what good?" some say. In answer, I suggest that you inspect my store room and see the instruments that are of inestimable value. The study of Physics gives the unvarnished truth. It gives a faint idea of the popular misconceptions of the public. Advertising so flavored with popular conceptions that the product will appeal to the buying public is the chief cause for these misconceptions.

SCHOLASTIC CONTEST

For eleven years, the national high school weekly "Scholastic" has sponsored the Scholastic Awards Contest for high school students, the rewards being in the form of merchandise, cash and scholarships for original creative work in pictorial and decorative arts, crafts and literature.

Works in art and literature are contributed from all places throughout the States, Porto Rico, Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands, thus making the competition exceedingly keen.

A select group of competent and renowned men and women compose the jury, to choose from more than ten thousand entries the few hundred retained pieces. This exhibit is shown in the larger cities under the direction of the American Federation of Arts.

It is considered both an accomplishment and an honor to have work accepted for the National High School Art Exhibit.

Those submitting work from our art department are as follows: in the Applied Arts, Block-printed textiles, June Vance and Ruth Diels; Batik, June Vance; Leathercraft, Kathleen O'Laughlin and Ruth Diels. In decorative design Frances Messenger, Emilie Altergott, Edith Elsas, Patsy Redpath, Geraldine Cone, Florence Elliott, Evelyn O'Bannon, Charlene Hartman and Sarah Anna Peery. In Pictorial Art, Kathleen O'Laughlin, Janice Anderson, Ruth Wilks, Charlene Hartman, Dorothylu Devin and Wilma Clow. Advertising Art, Dorothylu Devin; Sculpture, Charlene Hartman.

Those winning prizes from Northeast are: Charlene Hartman, design, third prize, $15.00 and $5.00 in colored inks; Ruth Diels, leathercrafts, third prize, $15.00; Kathleen O'Laughlin, leathercrafts, $5.00; June Vance, textile, $2.50. Those having pieces accepted for the exhibit are: Dorothylu Devin and Wilma Clow in pictorial arts; Janice Anderson, pencil, and Ruth Diels, textile.

Twenty years ago Prof. E. D. Phillips conceived the idea of having his Senior English literature pupils test their skill in designing book plates as literary crests for booklovers.

So permanent and popular became this custom, that Mr. Phillips invited the pupils in the design classes of the Art Department to co-operate with the literature classes in contributing to the beauty of this section of our Annual.

The constant motives of this undertaking are to cultivate the pupil's artistic talent for beauty's practical service, and to cultivate his original, creative ability in commercial art. It is doubtless pleasing to the student body and faculty our young artists in the production of book plates. to learn that we now have a special book plate for our

It stimulates the reader to visualize more vividly the word pictures of the writer, and to produce these pictures attractively with pencil or brush.

As a special magazine feature, it has caused our "Annual" to rank first or second place in several inter-high school, state and interstate contests in "Journalism."

Besides cultivating the desthetic taste of young artists, it has enabled some of them to secure handsome financial returns as practical designers of both bookplates and commercial posters.

POWER AND PROGRESS

Because this division is last does not mean that it is the least important. On the contrary it is one of the most important divisions, for in it are people who have the largest hand in steering the Viking ship. On them the responsibility falls. If the ship reaches port safely, they win the glory; but if it does not, then they receive the blame.

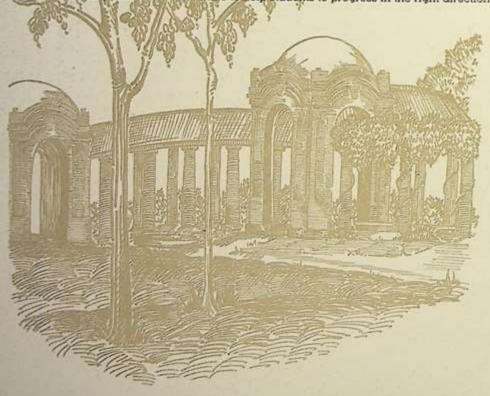

The Seniors have achieved a most successful year and with them a large amount of credit should rest. These years have been wonderful, filled with their highest hopes and ambitions, and will remain in their memory as the days spent at dear, old Northeast. They have all striven to uphold the morals and spirit of the school. An everlasting friendship has grown up between them that the years can never dissolve.

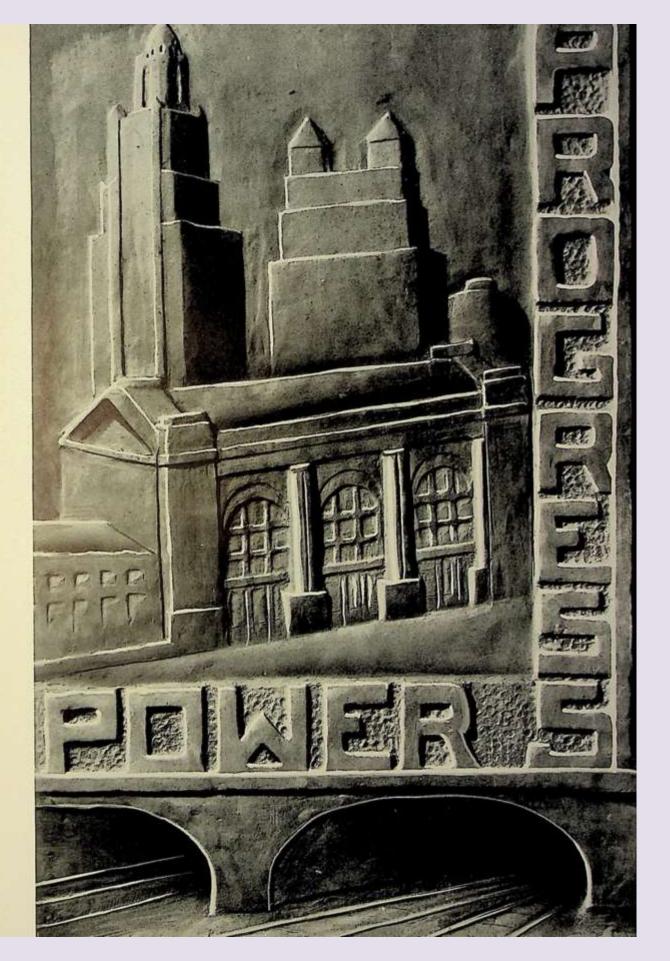

For the New Plan 3 Students, this year marks one of their most successful years. They started a new step, and now that they have successfully finished it, they can look up at the world with merited pride. Working side by side, and on equal basis with each other, this experience has strengthened even the weakest. They have been given an opportunity to show just what they could do, and they have done that which has been attempted successfully.

The students of the New Plan 2 class have a task before them, which they must accomplish in one more-year. If they do only what the class before them did, then they will have supplied their share of the work.

The teachers are the foundation of the school. Therefore to them much of the credit belongs, for seeing that the students represent the highest ideals of man and woman. To them the students looked for help, and the teachers gladly gave it to them. They have stood by through thick and thin without giving up. These same teachers, who have guided the students through their hardships, will remain to guide the children of these students just as successfully.

Through the Board of Education if has been possible for the students to have more satisfactory classrooms, and studying facilities. Therefore, one can say that they have done their share to help students to progress in the right direction.

SENIOR CLASS

We are Seniors, we are graduating this year. Somehow those words sound strange. Oh yes, it is true we've waited three years for this moment, but now that it has arrived it has fallen short of our expectations. Perhaps you have been too kind to us, or is it the realization that never again will exactly the same "gang" gather in the corners we liked to call our own; but no, it is something greater than any one item that can be mentioned, it is those mysterious qualities which constitute—Northeast.

Sophomores and Juniors, how they envy the Seniors. But take a tip you "youngsters," be glad you are you. Why? because you have a year or two longer to make the city, the state, the nation know, as we know, that Northeast is the finest of all high schools.

So we leave you, dear Northeast, as our laughter mingles with tears. And to you goes the thanks and the glory, if we succeed, this class of 1935.

NEW PLAN III CLASS

The graduating New Plan Class of this year departs from Northeast with mingled emotions of regret and eagerness—regret at leaving the institution that has harbored us so long, eagerness to find what lies beyond.

We have endeavored to uphold the newly established traditions of the Northeast Junior College; we have struggled to fling higher scholastic banners; yet, in our pursuit of education we have enjoyed the various social activities of the Class.

To the future classes we leave the opportunities and privileges that await each New Plan III student. We urge that the high standards and ideals of the Vikings be remembered, and hope that their future achievement may be great.

NEW PLAN III CLASS

The New Plan is a 3 year course beginning in the Junior year of High School. The plan has 3 divisions: the Engineering, the Liberal Arts, and the Secretarial. A fourth division, as yet not wholly separated from the Liberal Arts, is the Pre-Medics Course.

As the entire New Plan has developed, each division has become more efficient and educational. The growth of better facilities has been rapid. The handicaps that accompany each new experiment and beneficial progress are slowly disappearing and the course is assuming a more finished aspect.

Graduation under the New Plan requires the satisfactory completion of the first 2 years of college. Upon completion of this plan the engineering students and the liberal arts students may enter as juniors in any college of arts and sciences or school of engineering; and the graduates of the Secretarial course are competent to begin work with a foundation of high school training and 2 years of business education.

A new experiment, the publication of the "College World," originated this year. Several editions of the paper were printed and enthusiastically received. The staff of the paper served a semester each and were selected by the Editorial Board which was elected by the Class.

Two dances were sponsored by the Class this year and gay times were had. The first dance served as a Home Coming celebration for former New Plan graduates and was held December 20, 1934. The second occurred March 29, 1935, and it too was favorably attended.

A fine fellowship existed and was further promoted by the joint Pot Luck suppers of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Clubs. These evenings of gaiety and seriousness developed bonds of friendship that everyone will cherish a long time.

Our scholastic and social life this year has been pleasant—forming warm memories for future years.

The Commerce Department of our Junior College has carried on successfully another year of work. The students have endeavored to raise the standard set by the class of 1934. They aim to prepare themselves for a place in the business world, and in so doing hope to bring honor to the Northeast Junior College, Secretarial Department.

The appearance of 412, the Commerce laboratory, is business-like. There is a general air of efficiency—typewriters are clicking constantly, there is the electrical buzz of the office machines, and the clack of the revolving mimeograph cylinder fills the room with sound.

The Secretaries have tried to take full advantage of the opportunities offered. They have worked before and after school and on Saturdays. In this department the student may advance as rapidly as he can capably do so.

The department is growing. Favorable reports are being received from the industries where graduates of last year are now employed. The graduating class of this year hopes to establish a reputation equalling or surpassing that of last. Miss Weatherman and Mr. Green are the instructors. Miss Basham is an assistant.

NEW PLAN III DANCE

To the twinkling tunes of Happy Paul's orchestra and under a ceiling of blue and white, the annual New Plan Dance was held March 29. Arthur Burns, president of the class, was in charge of the committees that planned the dance and he was ably assisted by the following committees: Program, Paul Shoemaker, Chairman; Publicity, Belva Joe Moore; Orchestra, Barbara Ketchum; Rules and Finance, Cherrie Payne; and Decorations, C. G. Woodring, Mr. Harman and Miss DeWitt also rendered valuable assistance in preparing for the dance. A short intermission was held at which no refreshments were served. This was done in order that a full program of fourteen dances might be enjoyed. The dance was considered by everyone who attended an unqualified suc-

NEW PLANII CLASS

Members of the New Plan II Class wish to congratulate those who have gone before us because of their attainments. We hope that when another year goes by, we shall have maintained the high standards which they have established. We urge a constant and ever strengthening desire to carry on the traditions that have been the hope and inspiration of all true Vikings. We realize more each day of what co-operation with our faculty means, of what the purpose of education is, and of what reward for labor is.

Whatever life has in store for us all, we shall always cherish the purple and white as the emblem that led us to zealous effort for Northeast.

COMPREHENSIVE STATEMENT OF NEW PLAN COURSE

The New Plan is a three-year course beginning in the junior year of the high school. Northeast is the only school in the city offering such a course. The Plan has three divisions: the Engineering, the Liberal Arts, and the Secretarial. Other courses will be added when the demand justifies them.

The Engineering course requires mathematics each year: College Algebra, Trigonometry, Physics, Engineering Drawing, Analytics, Calculus, and Surveying. Such other subjects as Chemistry, English, Machine Drawing, Descriptive Geometry, Materials, and Analytical Mechanics are included in the requirements.

The Liberal Aris course offers the usual subjects given in the freshman and sophomore years of college, such as English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, and foreign languages.

The Secretarial course which is now completing its third year may be entered in the second year of the Plan. It provides training in Shorthand, Typewriting, Accounting, Commercial Law, English Composition, Salesmanship, Office Practice, and Office Machines. In this course twenty hours of college subjects are required; such as Economics, Sociology, English Composition, and Psychology. Last year seventeen students were graduated from this course and fifteen of them now have positions as secretaries. The class this year will probably number twenty-eight.

Of the seventy-eight graduates of the class of 1933, thirty have gone on to college elsewhere and are doing as good work as they did here, and in many cases better work. Most of these students will get their college degrees the coming June. Of the fifty-five academic graduates of 1934, twenty are this year in other colleges and our latest reports are that they are acquitting themselves well.

Arrangements have been made with the various colleges belonging to the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, that our graduates will be admitted to their junior classes. The institutions attended by our graduates thus far are the University of Missouri, University of Kansas, Northwestern University, University of Texas, and several colleges in the middle west.

This Plan offers an unusual opportunity to the patrons of the Northeast High School for their children to obtain a junior college education at a comparatively low cost.

IUNIOR CLASS

We, the Juniors of '35, realize that as the Seniors of '36 we must strive to carry on the work of the graduating Seniors. The Seniors have especially distinguished themselves this year and have left a number of gems "to shine forever in the diadem of our school." They have left the Juniors a goal to strive for and the Juniors are prepared to work toward this goal.

The school year of '34-'35 will long be remembered as a year of championships. To the Seniors goes the credit for winning much of the glory in football and basketball. Behind these teams was the whole student body and the Juniors contributed their share and expect to live up to these standards set by the Seniors. We realized these high standards and expect to leave higher ones for the Juniors of next year to maintain. Northeast is proud of other achievements in the academic fields, music, art and the R. O. T. C. and to the Seniors goes much of the credit for these achievements. We, the Junior Class, have given the Senior Class our loyal support and expect to carry on the work of this class. We feel proud of them and as they go forth to carry on their duties, we wish them the success they deserve.

The Juniors this year have been well represented on the honor rolls, the societies, clubs, and numerous other organizations and activities of Northeast. The Sophomores of yesterday, the Juniors of today, the Seniors of tomorrow, we are ready to take our place on the good ship Viking to steer her to more victories in 1936.

New Plan I Class

We came! We saw! We conquered! Entering the New Plan course at the beginning of the year was a thrill and an experience to look forward to. The course was difficult, the work was tackled with determination, and we have emerged from our first year far wiser than we were a year ago. We didn't expect to attain the height of our elder brothers and sisters, but we have prepared ourselves to fit very creditably into their vacant places.

We have met requirements and they are ours. This year's preparation for the regular college work has increased our knowledge, broadened our minds, strengthened our character, and has shown us how to use our time successfully. In our English classes we have learned of the great writers, poets, sculptors and painters and have become acquainted with their works. Through History and Science we have learned to evaluate events that have happened and are happening, and to study facts and proofs to see what truth there is in them for us. Those of us who are studying Mathematics and Physical Training, see that we have progressed satisfactorily in these courses.

Through the entire course we see that we have progressed as fast as could possibly have been desired. We greet those of you who are coming after us and wish you richest rewards in your future years. So, adios amigos, until next year, when we shall again be heard of with more and greater fame and glory for ourselves and our school.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The future holds great possibilities for the Sophomore Class. Before them lie two more years, in which to make an enviable name for themselves. Years in which to add to the glory of the high school, which will become dearer to them as time advances.

As far as we can determine by their first year in a strange building, the Sophomores have so far shown an admirable record in school activities.

To them do the Seniors entrust the name and honor of our Alma Mater. May they carry it through future years and guard it as patriotically as did the Seniors, who are now departing.

MR. EDWIN C. MESERVEY

Mr. Edwin C. Meservey, for twelve years a devoted member of our Board of Education, passed away on March 7, 1935. For the last seven years he was President of the Board up to within a few days of his death when he resigned. Mr. Meservey's contribution to the cause of education in Kansas City was very pronounced; always fair to teachers, administrators, and the public, his services were always greatly appreciated.

Mr. Meservey was one of the outstanding lawyers of the city. In this field he stood for the highest ethical standards of his profession, thereby setting a fine example for younger men to follow.

As a citizen he held various political offices during his career, and besides he was a worker in many groups aiming at the betterment of Kansas City. Modest, unassuming, conscientious, devoted to the task in hand, he will be remembered as one embodying the highest qualities of citizenship.

The purpose shall be to promote child welfare in all its phases, to bring into closer relationship the home and the school, to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, moral, and spiritual education.

Through the help of our Parent Education Class, which was organized last December, we have strived to bring about a true feeling of friendship and cooperation between our school, parents, and high school students.

We desire our boys and girls to know that the Northeast Parent-Teacher Association is standing by them in all of their undertakings, and we are proud of the record which Northeast has made this year. Your problems are our problems; and it is the desire and wish of the parents and teachers of this association, that the students of this high school have the best training it is possible to give them to meet successfully all obstacles. Our prayer will always be—"Good luck and success to our boys and girls."

The 1935 NOR'EASTER is the twenty-second Annual published at Northeast. For nine years the Annual appeared as the last issue of a series of magazines, which were discontinued in 1922. The school paper appeared as The Nor'easter until 1928, when its name was changed to The Northeast Courier. The NOR'-EASTER has always been the name of the Annual. The number of copies issued each year has varied from 800 to 1400. The 1923, 1924, and 1925 issues included the Northeast Junior High School. The first twelve editors were boys, while six of the remaining ten are girls.

LEST WE FORGET!

We reprint the joyous facts that our Nor'easter Annual won the following enviable prizes.

At Missouri State University, and in the "Interscholastic Press Association" our Annual, in competition with all the Missouri High School Annuals, won

> 1st Place-May-1925 1st Place-May-1926

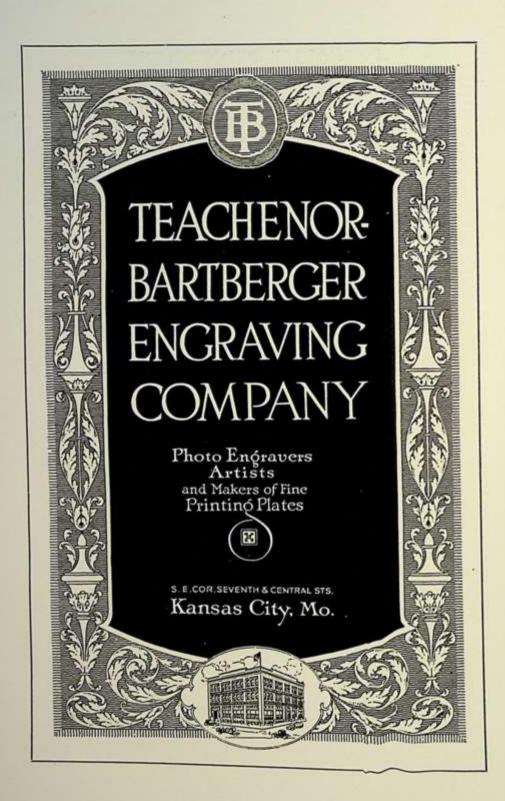

1st Place-May-1927

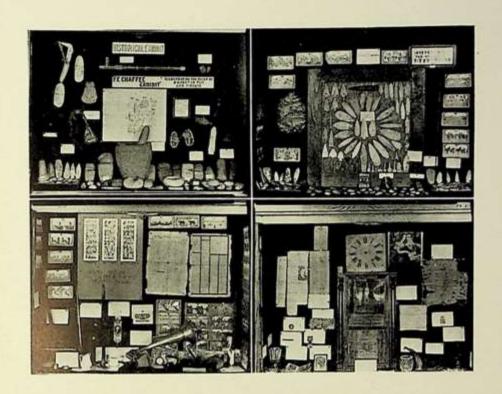

Likewise, at the Central Interscholastic Press Association Convention, the Nor'easter Annual won

1st Place-October-1927

1st Place-September-1928

In this latter contest the Nor'easter Annual competed against all the high schools of over twenty-five states.

HISTORICAL EXHIBIT

The historical exhibit was started in the school year 1931-32. It was the outgrowth of interest in the study of current values due to the antique character of things found in the homes of our students. More than one hundred specimens have been shown each year. These have been valued by their owners as worth "lots of sentiment" up to several hundred dollars. Mr. R. V. Harmon has planned and arranged these exhibits, and their uniform excellence is due to his enthusiasm and intelligent selection of the materials.

The American Indian Exhibit, loaned by Mr. F. E. Chaffee, featured the opening of the show of 1934-35. His hobby has become of educational value to our community. The old "wooden-wheel" clock operated by gravity or weights was handmade in Connecticut about 1760. This clock was contributed by Russell Hallett.

Most every phase of American life in each generation appears in these exhibits. The implements of war used by the oldest Americans appeared along side of those of the World War. The handiwork of the Colonial women was exhibited with modern handmade and machine made fabrics.

Most of these "antiques" were found "stored away" in attics and other "cubby holes." They will be returned to their homes where they will be given  $\alpha$  place on the montel or they will be assigned to a place more in keeping with their historical value. Many of them will eventually be assigned  $\alpha$  place in some museum where they will be viewed by future generations.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Staff of 1935 hereby wishes to express its gratitude for the assistance rendered by its many friends in the publication of the 1935 Nor'easter Annual.

The Photographer, Mr. Haines of the Haines Studio, contributed greatly to the enterprise.

Mr. Cooksey, representing the Teachenor-Bartberger Engraving Company, proved to be a helpful assistant, as did also the Lowell Printing Company and The Inter-State Bindery Company, which helped in making the individual cover we now are using.

Financial aid was secured through the Advertisers, Clubs, Societies, and the Student Body.

We especially wish to thank our Advisors and Faculty without whom it would have been impossible to finish this project.

We made your mother's graduation flowers and have improved ever since.
